ABSTRACT

This directory provides information on 1,800 postsecondary study programs that take place in countries other than the United States during the academic year, ranging in length from 1 week to 1 year. An introductory section describes the organization of the listings, which provide program sponsor and name, location, dates, fields of study offered, credits, eligibility, instruction highlights, costs, housing, deadline, and contact. A chapter on planning for study abroad discusses: researching the options (language proficiency, geographic location, the third world, disabled students, and adult learners); educational choices; finances; travel and living (laws and customs, accommodations, passports, visas, vaccinations, medical insurance, other health concerns, and transportation); and programs administered by the Institute of International Education (IIE). Program listings are arranged within the following regions: worldwide; Africa, South of the Sahara; Asia and Oceania; Eastern Europe; Western Europe; Middle East and North Africa; and the Western Hemisphere. An appendix provide statistics on study abroad and five indexes provide access by sponsoring institutions, consortia, fields of study, special options, and cost ranges. (LPT)

Study Abroad
with Beaver College

Study in Greece
Fall and spring semester programs feature courses in modern Greek language together with classical, Byzantine and contemporary Greek studies. The programs are based in Athens with field study trips to Macedonia, the Peloponnesus and other areas of interest.

Study in Austria
Fall and spring semester programs in Vienna, the crossroads of Europe, offer European, East European and Southeast European studies options with escorted field study trips to the countries considered. We also offer a three-week January session for intensive German language study.

Study in Ireland
Full-year, fall and spring programs are fully integrated with Irish students at five colleges of the National University of Ireland—Cork, Dublin, Galway, Mary Immaculate and St. Patrick's—as well as at Trinity College Dublin and the University of Limerick.

Study in Britain
Select from fully integrated programs at 27 universities in England, Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland for the academic year, fall or spring. Our special programs include fall and spring Oxford semesters, spring pre-law and pre-med at King's College London, fall and spring London humanities semesters, and London internships fall, spring and summer.

TO SEND IIE INFORMATION ON NEW PROGRAMS

If you offer a study-abroad program not listed in this book, you may ask to be added to our mailing list for our annual summer survey. Enclose current printed information with your letter. If your program is appropriate for either Academic Year Abroad or Vacation Study Abroad, IIE will send our New Program Questionnaire to you next summer. The books are intended to offer information on postsecondary programs up to one year in length. Send your request to:

NOTE ON MIDDLE EAST

IIE collected data for this book in the summer and early fall of 1990, before the Persian Gulf war began. The information provided to us by program sponsors in the Middle East and North Africa section predates hostilities. Do not assume that programs will run as scheduled. However, do not assume that programs will not run. Some program sponsors will cancel or postpone programs, but others will continue to operate under near-normal conditions, or will change site if there are security concerns. As with all information in this book, contact the sponsor for final information.

ADVERTISING POLICY

Advertising in Academic Year Abroad is open to the U.S. and foreign higher educational institutions and private organizations that sponsor study-abroad programs listed in the book.

The Institute of International Education does not attempt to evaluate programs listed in the book, nor can it verify statements made by advertisers in their ads. Inclusion of a program or advertisement does not imply IIE recommendation, nor does omission imply IIE disapproval. Advertisers are solely responsible for the accuracy of the information in their advertisements.

Program listings are free of charge and are provided by IIE as a public educational service. They are not contingent upon the purchase of advertising space by the sponsor. See Index I: Sponsoring Institutions to find the program listings of the advertisers listed below.

AT 21, ARE MY BEST YEARS BEHIND ME?

By Elisabeth H. Beaven

I recently returned from my junior year abroad, which I spent at the University of London. I was told that this would be the best year of my life and it was.

There are so many preconceptions about what a junior year abroad will be like. Young, intelligent, generally attractive, occasionally sensitive men and women cross large bodies of water to immerse themselves in foreign cultures. Romance is in the air.

Based on these preconceptions, when I left for London last October, I had a set number of goals. Among them were falling in love with an attractive and available nobleman, and absorbing all the little nuances of life that I am generally too busy to notice. (I would certainly see these nuances now since I was at such a heightened awareness for this superlative year.) My wonderful experience abroad would be an inspiration for the novel I planned to write.

Somehow, I convinced myself that as long as my year was going to be so great, I had to be a great person in order to deserve it. I had to take advantage of each day, making quality time out of my quality time. I was to be Wonder Woman Abroad.

Imagine how embarrassing it would be for me to have to admit to not having a great year. I would have to save face. It would definitely be a setback for my image, if my image could suffer a setback. So I did have the time of my life.

I went to pubs, to the theater twice a week and saw every sight and shopped in every store in London. I met the English, studied Middle English poetry with my tutor and traveled across the Continent by rail for my five week spring break.

It never rained in London while I was there; it never got cold. There was a month-long heat wave in June that crippled Londoners, but enervated us expatriates.

In short, it was Camelot, and although I, like the Lady of Shalott, found "no loyal knight and true," I achieved most of my goals.

It's all over now. I have landed safely back in America. The future stretches before me in the curly shape of a question mark.

Some people are worried about my ability to accept the reality that "the best year of my life is over." My college, Mount Holyoke, sent me an article outlining the psychological steps I am supposed to encounter in my re-entry to my native land: excitement, frustration, no sense of control, rejection of my culture and readaptation. They even provided group therapy for those having difficulty coping with the transition.

But I will not sit back and be a junior-year-abroad postpartum statistic. I know that the founder of Mount Holyoke, Mary Lyon, would encourage me, as she always encouraged young women, "to go where no one else will go, do what no one else will do."

I intend to follow her wise advice, and I am determined to have more years that I can call "the best."

Life surely cannot and should not be over at 21, right?

Elisabeth H. Beaven, an English major, is a senior at Mount Holyoke College.

INSTITUTE OF INTERNATIONAL EDUCATION

The Institute of International Education (IIE) is the largest U.S. higher educational exchange agency.

IIE builds international understanding through educational exchanges that reach nearly all the world's nations. Many IIE programs further international development goals.

A nonprofit organization with over 600 U.S. college and university members, IIE has provided information on educational exchange to higher education and the public for 70 years.

USIA FULBRIGHT PROGRAM

The Institute assists the U.S. Information Agency (USIA) in the conduct of the graduate Fulbright Program for both U.S. and foreign students at the predoctoral level.

U.S. students enrolled in a U.S. college or university must apply through a campus Fulbright Program Adviser. U.S. citizens not formally enrolled in a higher educational institution may request applicant information on USIA Fulbright Program grants from IIE's U.S. Student Programs Office.

Foreign nationals who wish to apply for financial assistance through the Fulbright Program to study in the United States must apply through the binational Fulbright Commission or designated U.S. diplomatic post in their home nation. IIE cannot accept applications from foreign nationals for the USIA Fulbright Program.

PROGRAM ADMINISTRATION

IIE manages 200 programs which benefit approximately 10,000 men and women from nearly 150 nations each year. The Institute is an independent nonprofit agency. It organizes international projects at the request of sponsors such as the U.S. Information Agency, U.S. Agency for International Development, foundations, corporations, universities, foreign governments and international organizations.

PURPOSES AND PARTICIPANTS

IIE administers international education, training and research activities to fulfill goals developed in consultation with its sponsor organizations. Purposes can vary from the institutional development of a university in an emerging nation to multinational corporate staff development, from short-term training to long-term research on world food needs. Half of those assisted are foreign students pursuing U.S. graduate degrees. The Institute also assists large numbers of U.S. students and U.S. and foreign senior scholars, scientists, artists, corporate executives and community leaders each year.

SERVICES TO HIGHER EDUCATION AND THE COMMUNITY

IIE provides educational advising services worldwide that assist 200,000 individuals annually. IIE publications are standard guides to international study. IIE research reports provide a substantive basis for policy choices in the field of international exchange.

U.S. OFFICES

U.S. offices are located in New York, the Institute's central office; Washington, DC; Chicago, Denver, Houston and San Francisco. Students and educators visiting New York City are encouraged to make use of the IIE International Education Information Center in planning international study. The center is located at IIE headquarters at 809 United Nations Plaza, and is open each weekday from 10 to 4 except for major holidays. The center cannot provide research assistance by phone or letter.

OVERSEAS EDUCATIONAL INFORMATION CENTERS

IIE overseas educational information centers are located in Bangkok, Thailand; Hong Kong; and Mexico City. They offer extensive information resources useful to foreign nationals planning study at U.S. colleges and universities. Offices in Bangkok, Budapest, Mexico City and Jakarta also assist the Educational Testing Service in the administration of the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) and other admissions tests in their countries or regions.

IIE STUDY-ABROAD BOOKS

The Institute of International Education (IIE) has published guides to study abroad for over 40 years. IIE's two companion volumes, Academic Year Abroad and Vacation Study Abroad, are the only comprehensive, annually-updated reference directories to international study for U.S. students.

Information contained in these two books is based on a survey conducted in the summer of each year. Surveys for the 1991/92 edition of the IIE books were sent during the summer of 1990. The surveys were mailed to 2,000 organizational sponsors of programs listed in the 1990/91 edition, and to all organizations that wrote to the IIE study-abroad editor requesting to be listed.

U.S. colleges and universities—over 600 of which are IIE Educational Associate member institutions—have traditionally been highly responsive to the Institute's surveys for Academic Year Abroad and Vacation Study Abroad, as have many other organizations that offer international study opportunities to U.S. nationals. Given this cooperation, the books are as comprehensive as IIE can make them.

IIE tries to make the information contained in the two books accurate and useful. Bear in mind, however, that information-gathering takes place long before these books are published—often before program arrangements are final. For this reason, it is a good idea to use the IIE books only as general resources for locating programs of interest. Final and full information on any program must be obtained directly from the program sponsor.

CRITERIA FOR INCLUSION

The IIE books provide information about postsecondary study-abroad programs open to U.S. citizens who are undergraduate, graduate or postgraduate students; adult or continuing education students; or professionals in business, education, health professions, the law and other professional fields. The large majority of programs are intended for undergraduates, but IIE actively seeks information about international programs of interest to other categories of learners.

Most programs listed in these books are designed especially for U.S. students. However, a substantial minority of programs are more broadly international. For example, the IIE books list the international student programs of many foreign universities. These programs are open to students from all nations who can meet the eligibility requirements, not just students from the United States.

All programs must take place outside the 50 United States. Programs sited in U.S. territories and possessions are eligible for inclusion.

Academic Year Abroad and Vacation Study Abroad describe programs that range from one week to one calendar year in length. Further information on the duration of programs listed in each of the books is provided below.

Program sponsors are U.S. accredited colleges and universities, which sponsor the majority of programs in both books; foreign universities, language schools, educational associations, binational agencies and other organizations.

Many programs offer academic credit that may be used in partial fulfillment of requirements for an academic degree. It is usually not possible to complete all course requirements for an academic degree in the period of time covered by the programs in these books, nor is that their purpose.

ACADEMIC YEAR ABROAD

Academic Year Abroad offers information on study-abroad programs that take place during the academic year (September through June), and that are at least one academic quarter in length (usually 8 to 10 weeks).

Of 1,800 programs listed in the current edition, some 75 percent are sponsored by U.S. accredited colleges and universities. Almost 500 programs are offered by institutions without U.S. accreditation: foreign universities and institutes, adult education centers, language schools and other U.S. and foreign organizations.

VACATION STUDY ABROAD

Vacation Study Abroad provides information on summer programs of any length from one week to several months—and on short courses of varying lengths in the fall, winter or spring. Some 60 percent of programs are sponsored by U.S. accredited colleges and universities.

In addition to U.S. higher education-sponsored programs, Vacation Study Abroad describes offerings of many foreign universities, language schools and other organizations. Language school programs often allow participation for lengths of time that vary from one week to several months. Vacation Study Abroad also contains many programs that combine study with extensive travel over short periods of time, or that focus on topics of broad interest, and therefore are especially appealing to adults.

HOW TO USE THIS BOOK

The information contained in this book—complemented by the guidance of an experienced study-abroad adviser if you are currently enrolled at a college or university—can help you plan what may be one of the most rewarding experiences of your life.

This section explains the overall organization of the book, how individual program entries are organized, and the terms used in the program descriptions. A list of abbreviations used in entries is also provided.

OVERALL ORGANIZATION

Program entries are organized first by geographical region: Africa South of the Sahara, Asia and Oceania, Eastern Europe, Western Europe, the Middle East and the Western Hemisphere. Each world region is subdivided alphabetically by country and then by city. Within each city section, program entries are alphabetized by name of sponsoring organization.

In addition to specific country and city listings, there is a 'Worldwide' section for programs that are active in more than one world region. Similarly, there are 'More Than One Country' listings at the beginning of each regional section, and 'More Than One City' listings at the front of each country. Remember to consult these sections in addition to listings for specific cities and countries.

The book also provides useful information in its introduction and its indexes. The section you are now using provides specific information on how to use program descriptions to identify programs of interest to you. The following section, 'Planning for Study Abroad,' offers overall guidance on the steps students should follow in organizing a productive study-abroad experience.

INDEXES ARE:

■ Sponsoring Institutions

This is an alphabetical index to all U.S. and foreign colleges, universities, consortia and other organizations that sponsor study-abroad programs described in this book.

■ Consortia

A consortium in this book is a group of colleges and universities that jointly offers study-abroad programs. The index lists each consortium's member institutions.

■ Fields of Study

Programs are indexed by field of study and by country.

■ Special Options

This index is a guide to programs open to students other than undergraduates, e.g., precollege students, graduate students, adults, teachers; and to programs that offer special opportunities, e.g., internships, independent study, study tours.

■ Cost Ranges

This is an index to programs available at varying levels of cost.

■ Duration

In Vacation Study Abroad, which contains entries on programs of widely varying length, there is also an index of programs by duration in weeks. Academic Year Abroad does not have this index, because the overwhelming number of programs of semester or academic year length would make a duration index less useful.

SAMPLE ENTRY

The sample entry describes a program that does not exist. In fact, the program entry could not exist, because it offers information under virtually all headings available as options in our computer database. No study-abroad program offers quite that many options, although a few come close. The advantage of this mythical program is that it allows us to provide an example of the many different kinds of useful data you may encounter in using this book, and to explain what they all mean.

Major headings are printed in boldface. Subheads under the major headings are printed in italic type. The paragraphs below explain the terms used under each major heading in a program description, using the sample entry as an example.

Program Sponsor and Name

EXEMPLARY STATE UNIVERSITY
Japanese Business and Civilization Program

Each entry begins with its program number, followed by the sponsor name and program title.

Programs are numbered in consecutive order throughout the book. All indexes are to the program number, rather than to the page number on which the program entry appears.

Name of sponsor institution is the second item of information to appear. All entries are indexed by sponsor in Index I: Sponsoring Institutions. Entries may list up to three cosponsors. In some cases, a consortium (group of colleges and universities) cosponsors a program. If there are more than three colleges and universities in the consortium, the sponsor name used in the entry and in Index I is the consortium name.

Consortium-sponsored programs are also indexed by consortium name in Index II: Consortia, which provides lists of all member colleges and universities in each consortium. In consortia program entries, the Contact heading refers the user to the index for the consortium's membership, using the standard phrase, 'See Index II for members.'

Site

Site: Japan: Kyoto Host inst: Kyoto Mgmt Inst

The country and city in which the program takes place are provided first under the Site: heading.

Name of host institution is next. The host institution is the school or organization that provides the premises and facilities for classes connected with the program, typically through a contract or other agreement with the sponsor. The sponsor, not the host institution, is the organization with legal, financial and administrative responsibility for the program. The host institution may provide staff and services to the sponsor in addition to the use of its facilities.

Dates

Dates: Aug-Dec or Jan-May or Jun-Jul

Exact dates are stated if provided by the program sponsor. Remember that final program dates are often not available at the time our survey is conducted, many months before the program actually begins. For current information, contact the sponsor.

Subjects

Subjects: Banking, Business/management, Civilization/culture, Economics, Graphic Arts/design, Japanese language (int/adv), Japanese studies

Up to fifteen fields of study offered by the program are listed here. Some programs provide opportunities in more than fifteen fields of study, e.g., the international student program of a foreign university. In these cases, 'Full curriculum' appears as the first subject listing, to indicate the availability of a wide range of courses. Contact the sponsor for a course catalog to learn about the full range of fields of study.

Many study-abroad programs offer opportunities to learn foreign languages. When sponsors provide the information, program entries indicate the proficiency level of language courses offered: beginning, intermediate and/or advanced (beg/int/adv).

Consult Index III: Fields of Study for assistance in locating programs in a specific field. Contact the program sponsor for more detailed course information.

Eligibility

Eligibility: Own students preferred. Level: jrs, srs, grads, adults, teachers, professionals, precoll Requires: 3.00 GPA, previous study in field, 2 yrs coll Japanese Age: min 18, max 81, avg 22

If a program restricts eligibility, the phrase 'own students only,' or a similar phrase defining the restriction, e.g., 'own students preferred,' 'state residents only,' will be highlighted in bold italics. A program that does not include a highlighted restriction is open to applicants at the appropriate academic levels from other institutions.

The IIE books include programs that colleges and universities limit to their own students, or otherwise restrict, because many students first learn of their own institution's programs from these books. Also, study-abroad advisers find it useful to know about the programs of other colleges and universities, and can occasionally arrange access to another institution's program as a special case. For these and other reasons, IIE tries to make its study-abroad reference books as complete as possible.

Level: lists the academic levels that may enroll in the program. Most programs are intended primarily for undergraduates, and the abbreviations used for the four undergraduate levels are: fresh, sophs, jrs, srs, for freshmen, sophomores, juniors, seniors. Many programs are also open to graduate students (grads), adult learners, precollege students (precoll), teachers and professionals. 'Adults' usually refers to high school graduates who are at least 18 years of age, are often older than the typical undergraduate and are not currently enrolled in a degree program at a U.S. college. 'Precollege' generally means high school graduates who have not yet entered college. 'Professionals' are those actively working in a field as a career who may wish to improve their skills by international study, e.g., health professionals studying the public health systems of other nations.

Adult learners often wish to study abroad as a way to productively combine travel and learning. Precollege students may want overseas experience before they begin their undergraduate education. Teachers and professionals enhance their qualifications through international study. To help graduate students, adult learners, precollege students, teachers and professionals find the programs accessible to them, use Index IV: Special Options.

The Requires: subheading lists eligibility requirements, which most typically are a minimum Grade Point Average (GPA), previous study in the field or a minimum level of language proficiency or other course prerequisite, e.g., 2 yrs coll Japanese. Since space considerations do not allow us to describe requirements in complete detail, it is a good idea to ask the program sponsor for full information.

Some programs have minimum (min) or maximum (max) age limits. Others provide an average (avg) student age as an indication of the typical age/academic level of enrolled students.

Credit

Credit: Undergrad: 14-15 Grad: 10-12 Doc: transcript, certificate, diploma, degree

Availability of academic credit is indicated. If a unit other than semester hours is used by the program sponsor to define credit, it is specified. Undergraduate credits are listed first, then graduate credits.

Most foreign institutions do not use the U.S. system of academic credit and, thus, do not actually grant credit for successful completion of courses. Many of them are familiar with U.S. credit requirements, however, and have indicated the number of credits generally accepted by U.S. colleges for the program or course listed.

Foreign schools and other organizations sometimes arrange to transfer credit through an accredited U.S. college. When programs offer the transfer credit option, the name of the U.S. school granting transfer credit is given.

The document awarded for successful completion of the program is listed after the subhead Doc:.

Remember that the award of credit by your home institution is never automatic. It must be arranged in advance. Consult your academic or study-abroad adviser about receiving academic credit before you enroll in a program.

Instruction

Instruction: In: English, Japanese Format: art studios, directed field study, independent study, internship, lang study, lecture, practical training, seminar, student teaching, study tour, tutorial, volunteer/svc Students: mainly US

Language of instruction appears first under this heading. Where more than one language is used in teaching classes, consult the program sponsor for exact information. Foreign language courses are usually taught in the language being studied. Other courses may be taught in English or the language of the host country. For courses taught exclusively in a foreign language, be sure to determine in advance whether your level of fluency is sufficient.

Entries then indicate Format: which may be language study (lang study), lectures, seminars, tutorials—or such special options as art studios, internship, independent study, practical training, student teaching, study tour, directed field study, volunteer/svc (voluntary service projects). Special options such as these are indexed in Index IV.

The final subhead, Students:, provides information on class composition. Some programs are arranged especially for U.S. students (mainly US). Others mix U.S. students with other foreign students (international classes, abbreviated as 'intl'). Still others integrate U.S. students into classes taken mainly by local students to provide greater exposure to the host country culture (mainly host country). Many programs offer a variety of class experiences to U.S. students. For example, U.S. students may take some classes as a group and be integrated with host country students for other classes (an option indicated as 'US and host country.') Other combinations that occur: intl and host country, US and intl.

Costs

Costs: $10,000 (1991/92) incl tuition, housing, all meals, intl airfare, insurance, fees, excursions, books/materials Nonrefundable fee

We have asked sponsors to provide a package amount for participation in the full program. This information is followed by a list of items the program fee includes: tuition, housing, all meals (where three meals per day are usually provided), some meals (fewer than three per day), international airfare (between the U.S. and the program site), health/accident insurance, fees connected with participation in the program, excursions, books and materials, railpasses and other items.

If the program sponsor requires a nonrefundable application fee, the requirement is indicated by the words 'Nonrefundable fee.'

A cost amount followed by the year in parentheses indicates that fees were applicable for that year. Since IIE conducts research for this book well in advance of actual program dates, costs for the year in question are sometimes not yet finally established at the time sponsors provide information. In such cases, sponsors typically provide information on their current fees instead. In either case, the figure given may require clarification or adjustment. Many factors can affect costs, e.g., fluctuations in exchange rates, a change in the mix of services provided for the program fee, etc. Always contact the sponsor directly for the most current information in this important area.

Index V: Cost Ranges provides guidance to programs at varying levels of cost.

Housing

Housing: Arr by pgm: residence halls with local students, apts, homestay, pensions, hotels, hostels

Most programs provide housing for members of the group. Entries indicate first who arranges housing—the sponsor (Arr by pgm=Arranged by program) or the student (Arr by student=Arranged by student), and second, what types of housing are available: residence halls, apartments, homestays (living with a family in a private home), pensions, hotels or other accommodations.

Deadline

Deadline: Feb 1 for fall; Oct 1 for spring

In most cases, deadlines are for the receipt of completed applications with all necessary supporting material: transcripts, recommendations, deposits, etc. Find out well in advance what application material is needed.

Some programs will admit students after the deadline is past, but usually only when a program has not filled all allotted places. It is best not to count on luck. Apply early!

If there is a financial aid deadline for students applying for scholarships offered by the program, it will be indicated here.

Other Info

Other Info: US accredited sponsor: yes Began: 1970 In coop with: Kyoto Higher Educ Authority Orient: in US and abroad Activities: excursions, field trips, pgm travel, cultural events, sports Misc: 2 wk bus internship Kyoto Corporation. May contact former participants. Financial aid: scholarships, work-study

All program descriptions indicate whether an accredited U.S. college or university sponsors the program. This information is especially important for those students who need academic credit for their study abroad.

The year in which the program began is provided next, followed by the name of any organization cooperating with the sponsor in offering the program.

Additional information includes the availability of orientation (Orient:) in the U.S. and/or abroad. Many programs offer activities such as excursions, field trips, program-related travel (pgm travel), cultural events and sports. An excursion or field trip is usually local and does not involve extended time away from the program site. In contrast, program travel may last up to one month or more and involve extensive distances and lectures or research on distant sites.

The Misc: (miscellaneous) subheading is used for information that does not fit other headings, but is nonetheless significant. The phrase 'May contact former participants' indicates that the sponsor, if requested, will facilitate contact with a former student—by mail, phone or in person. Some sponsors routinely invite former students to their orientation sessions. Make every effort to attend these sessions. The information you acquire from other students can be valuable in selecting the right program and preparing for a rewarding experience abroad.

If financial aid other than loans is available to program participants, the Financial aid: subheading will specify either 'scholarships' or 'work-study.'

Contact

Contact: Intl Pgms, Exemplary State Univ, Exemplary CA 99009 Ph: (800) 222-1111; (714) 999-8877 Fax: (714) 999-6655 Telex: 423989 Or Contact: Exemplary State in Kyoto, Kyoto 111, Japan Ph: (99-222) 55-2222 Fax: (99-222) 55-3344

The primary contact's mailing address for information and applications is listed first, with a toll-free phone number, if available; other phone numbers; fax, telex or cable. A second or third contact may also be listed, often in cases in which two or three colleges cosponsor a program, or in which a foreign school has both a U.S. representative and a foreign admissions office.

Programs sponsored by consortia typically indicate the administering school as the primary contact, preceded in the program description by a reference to 'See Index II for members.' Index II: Consortia lists all member colleges and universities of a given consortium. The usual rule in this situation is that students at member schools apply to their campus study-abroad office, while students at nonmember schools should contact the main consortium office or the administering school.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

The Institute of International Education does not attempt to review or evaluate programs listed in this book. Inclusion of a program does not imply IIE recommendation, nor does omission imply IIE disapproval. Program evaluations and additional information must be requested directly from the program sponsor, NOT from IIE.

PLANNING FOR STUDY ABROAD

Study abroad can be an extraordinary adventure in which the educational experiences do not start or stop at the classroom door, or even at the edge of the campus. In contrast to the relatively sheltered life found at many U.S. colleges, study in a foreign setting exposes the student to a whole gamut of new cultural experiences—experiences that open up fresh perspectives on international political and economic issues, interpersonal relationships and ultimate career choices.

Even an adventure, however, benefits from planning. How well you achieve your immediate personal and academic objectives, as well as your long-range career goals, depends heavily on choosing the right country, institution and program. Because of the complex choices to be made, planning should begin a full year before you expect to depart.

RESEARCHING THE OPTIONS

The range of study-abroad programs available is considerable. Many programs focus on specific academic disciplines, while others feature both academic and language study. A number of programs combine independent study or internships with traditional coursework.

Your choice of program should be determined by a realistic assessment of your academic preparation and objectives. If you are currently enrolled at a U.S. college or university, be sure to consult with either a study-abroad or Fulbright Program adviser, or a faculty member knowledgeable about foreign study programs. The adviser can help determine whether the programs you are considering will mesh with your educational goals—and whether you will receive academic credit for them.

It remains your responsibility, however, to research the alternatives thoroughly: contact the designated persons or departments to request program literature, ask specific questions and obtain and review background information on the country you plan to visit. Get in touch with previous participants in programs that interest you. Meet with students from other countries to learn what it is like to be a "foreign student."

Allow plenty of time for this research—and expect to discover exciting educational possibilities you hadn't originally been aware of.

Language Proficiency

Foreign language proficiency is perhaps the single most important factor in choosing where to study. Be completely realistic about your level of competency. Holding a simple conversation or ordering a meal in another language is one thing; following a complicated lecture and reading scholarly books is something else entirely.

U.S. college-sponsored programs may be conducted in cooperation with a foreign institution or may be taught by foreign faculty. In such cases, the language of instruction is typically the language of the host country. The minimum requirement for most U.S.-sponsored programs is two years of college-level language study or the equivalent.

Study abroad offers an incomparable opportunity to learn the language and culture of another country. This book provides information on language and culture/civilization programs available worldwide.

Geographic Location

Geographic setting may be as important as academic characteristics in determining whether a program is appropriate for you. Large cities offer excellent cultural opportunities but are expensive and impersonal. Small towns offer more contact with local residents and a traditional way of life, but some students find the provincial lifestyle too limiting.

No foreign study program can be a guaranteed perfect choice. Even when your needs are well matched to the program, you may suffer periods of loneliness and disorientation simply because of the unfamiliar environment. Remember that one of the most important lessons to be learned from time spent abroad is flexibility—and a willingness to go on enjoying and learning even when confronting unexpected circumstances.

The Third World

Study in the Third World can be especially meaningful for a variety of reasons. The fact that nearly three-quarters of the world's population live in these nations is bound to have a significant effect on the course of history. From an economic standpoint, it is worth noting that U.S. trade with Third World countries now approaches 40 percent of all U.S. imports and exports. In today's economically interdependent world, knowledge of Third World nations may prove to be a tremendous career asset.

In addition, the cultures of the Third World countries pose a sharp contrast to that of the United States. They effectively challenge our customary assumptions about our own society and values and provide a unique perspective on our larger world role.

One legacy of colonialism in the Third World is that the language of instruction is often English, Spanish or French rather than the native tongue. This generalization does not apply, however, to countries like China, which has an extensive scientific and technical literature of its own, and which draws large numbers of students to study its literature, languages and cultures.

Disabled Students

Many educational institutions provide facilities for the handicapped. The extent to which these students can be accommodated, however, depends on the nature of their disabilities and the subject to be studied. Because disabled students may require special educational aids or services, they should discuss their needs with the program sponsors and investigate the possibility of obtaining supplementary funds to cover the costs of services required.

Information for the handicapped traveler is available from the U.S. branch of Mobility International (MIUSA), which publishes a newsletter and several booklets. For full details, write to MIUSA, PO Box 3551, Eugene, OR 97403.

Adult Learners

While most study-abroad programs are organized with the needs of college students in mind, a significant number admit adults with a personal or professional interest in study overseas. This is particularly true of summer and short-term programs, many of which are sponsored by adult or continuing education schools. The listings in IIE's study-abroad guides indicate whether a program admits adults and/or professionals. Even when the entry indicates that the program is geared to the undergraduate or graduate level, it may be worthwhile to contact the sponsor to see if adults can be admitted as auditors.

Adults over the age of 60 may be interested in the international programs of Elderhostel, which combine the best traditions of education and hosteling for those of retirement age. For information, write to Elderhostel, 80 Boylston Street, Suite 400, Boston, MA 02116.

The Interhostel program of the University of New Hampshire is designed for those age 50 and over. For details, write to Interhostel, Division of Continuing Education, University of New Hampshire, 6 Garrison Avenue, Durham, NH 03824.

EDUCATIONAL CHOICES

Before enrolling in a foreign study program, you must determine its effect on your degree and graduation requirements. Your advisers can help evaluate study abroad in relation to your academic needs and may assist in arranging credit.

U.S. college-sponsored programs generally award credit. Never assume, however, that credit will be granted automatically, or that you can wait until you complete the program to establish credit. Each school makes its own rules regarding transferable credits, and, if the program you select is not sponsored by your home institution, academic credit may not be accepted by it.

Once a proposed study program is approved by your adviser—and prior to departing from the United States—follow your school's specific procedure to ensure receipt of credit. It is strongly recommended that you secure a written document confirming that credit will be awarded. At some colleges or universities this may be done through the study-abroad office. At others, it will be handled by the admissions office or registrar. If there is no study-abroad adviser, your academic adviser can provide information.

Many U.S. colleges and universities allow students planning to study abroad to preregister for courses to be taken upon their return. This option should also be discussed with your study-abroad adviser prior to departure.

Types of Study-Abroad Programs

Most undergraduates enroll in programs sponsored by their own or other U.S. colleges. One advantage of U.S. college-sponsored programs is that they allow students to study in a foreign environment while remaining within a U.S. academic framework. Even where much of the actual coursework is taken at a foreign university, academic credit is arranged through the sponsoring U.S. institution. In addition, special courses in the language and culture of the foreign country may be provided, and language requirements may be relaxed. Finally, the sponsoring college usually either provides or helps arrange nonacademic essentials, such as housing and round-trip transportation.

Most programs fall into one of these categories:

1. Study in a foreign institution combined with courses arranged for the group by the sponsoring U.S. institution.

These programs usually require some knowledge of the language of the country. Nonetheless, special university courses for U.S. or other foreign students generally have less exacting language requirements than regular university courses. And some programs offer a choice of foreign institutions, depending on the level of the student's language skills.

One benefit of this type of program is that it lets you study at a foreign institution while meeting requirements for your U.S. degree. It also offers readily available help with any difficulties you may encounter in the foreign courses.

2. The fully integrated program at a foreign university or other college-level institution.

Students enroll in regular academic courses in the foreign institution, where fluency in the language of instruction is expected. Students must be able to follow lectures and take examinations along with natives of the country. These programs can be very exciting and challenging for students who qualify.

Since students enrolled in these programs will not have the opportunity to take any U.S. courses overseas, they must be sure to schedule required coursework at their home campuses.

3. The "island" program, in which all courses are arranged for the U.S. group and taught by faculty members of the sponsoring U.S. school or by foreign faculty engaged specifically for the program.

Some of these programs offer intensive language study for language majors. More often, however, these programs are conducted largely in English. In many areas of the world, they offer the only opportunity for meaningful study for students without a good command of a foreign language.

An advantage of this type of program is that the sponsoring U.S. institution has as much control over the nature and quality of instruction as it has at home. The chief disadvantage is that U.S. students are isolated from the foreign academic milieu and may find themselves isolated socially as well.

A few programs offer only independent study opportunities, in which qualified students carry out preapproved research projects abroad and receive credit from their home institutions. In others, U.S. students enroll in foreign universities and receive credit from their own schools for coursework abroad. Independent study arrangements like these are made on an individual basis by the students and their schools.

Sponsorship by Consortia

Many of the programs listed in IIE's study-abroad guides are sponsored cooperatively by groups of U.S. colleges or consortia. Some are administered through central consortium offices, others by the participating schools which rotate administrative duties among themselves.

It is unlikely to make any real difference to the student whether a program is offered by one school or by a consortium. The chief advantage of cosponsorship is that a consortium may be able to offer specialized programs that individual schools find difficult to provide. See Index II for lists of consortia and their member schools.

Direct Enrollment

It is also possible to enroll directly in many foreign universities. Direct enrollment is an option more often chosen by graduate students than by undergraduates, both because graduate students are more likely to be able to profit from specialized study programs abroad, and because many foreign universities require that new U.S. students already possess a bachelor's degree.

To enroll directly in a foreign university, look into the laws affecting higher education in the country where you plan to study. Some countries have quotas for the number of international students at their universities and restrictions on the numbers of foreign students admitted to particular fields, such as medicine, dentistry, the sciences and law. Because such restrictions may change from year to year, investigate current regulations early in the planning process.

Since admission policies vary from country to country and institution to institution, it is advisable to write directly to institutions you are interested in for specific information on their policies, requirements, costs and facilities. Addresses of foreign institutions can be found in World of Learning or the International Handbook of Universities, reference directories on higher education worldwide that can be found in many U.S. college and university libraries. To ensure a response, enclose an International Reply coupon (available from any Post Office) with your inquiry.

Remember that, since educational systems vary, no foreign degree is exactly equivalent to a U.S. degree. If you are interested in graduate studies abroad, be sure to conduct extensive research on the educational systems of the countries which interest you. Study-abroad advisers can be invaluable in helping you acquire the information you need to make a decision.

Another useful source of information is the World Education Series, published by the American Association of Collegiate Registrars and Admissions Officers (AACRAO). Although designed for college admissions officers who need to evaluate foreign academic credentials, these publications provide an overview of each country's educational system. Write AACRAO, One DuPont Circle, Washington, DC 20036, for a complete list of titles.

Vacation Study Programs

A study program abroad is a highly productive way to spend a vacation, whether from school or work. Many colleges, language schools and other organizations offer a variety of summer and short-term programs that provide serious academic study for college students, heritage courses for adults interested in finding their roots, technical programs for professionals and a wide range of courses for those who simply want to expand their horizons.

IIE's Vacation Study Abroad lists over 1,300 such programs, most of which take place during the summer. Recognizing that the desire to learn knows no age or season, however, many organizations now offer study tours and other programs throughout the year.

Internships

Many foreign study programs feature internships designed to provide hands-on experience in a particular field, with placements at museums, schools, government offices, international organizations, etc. Most are developed in close consultation with faculty advisers and are tailored to suit the special needs of the student. An internship's success depends almost entirely on the initiative and creativity of the student.

Because of the growing popularity of internship programs and the special arrangements they involve, you must apply for a position and begin making arrangements well in advance. As with other types of programs, don't forget to clarify issues of costs, credit, salary and housing. Use Index IV: Special Options in this book to locate internship listings.

Voluntary Service Projects

International service projects offer opportunities to young people from all over the world to live and work together with local people in community development. Usually no special skills are required. Many projects take place during the summer for short periods, but it is also possible to participate in semester or academic year programs for which academic credit can be arranged. There is no pay, but volunteers generally receive room and board. Good sources of information on volunteer service are the Council on International Educational Exchange and the Partnership for Service-Learning. Contact CIEE International Workcamps, 205 East 42nd St., New York, NY 10017, and Partnership for Service-Learning, 815 Second Avenue, Suite 315, New York, NY 10017.

FINANCES

Establish a budget to help determine which programs meet both your academic needs and financial capacity. Package fees for programs sponsored by U.S. colleges generally include transportation to and from the United States, tuition, fees, room and board and program-related travel. Other major items are books, local transportation and health and accident insurance.

Be especially careful to find out what program package fees do not cover. Admissions to cultural sites and events, gifts, optional travel, bank charges for exchanging money and miscellaneous personal expenses are rarely included and can add up to a considerable sum. Always set aside some money for unexpected contingencies; they invariably occur.

The program costs listed in this book should always be viewed as approximate: they were submitted to IIE some 12 to 18 months prior to the actual program dates. Inflation and fluctuations in exchange rates over this period of time may force significant changes in these figures. Again, it is your responsibility to confirm program costs by contacting the sponsor directly.

Large amounts of cash should not be carried abroad. Traveler's checks are available in U.S. dollars and major foreign currencies. International charge cards and bank credit cards can also be used to avoid carrying large amounts of cash. In some countries, hard currency restrictions limit the amount of foreign currency which can be changed back into U.S. dollars, particularly if the original exchange receipts have been misplaced. Do not under any circumstances exchange money on the black market.

Scholarships

At present, most financial assistance available for study abroad is for graduate and postgraduate study. Undergraduates with regular university scholarships, however, are generally allowed to use them for their own school's overseas programs. Your study-abroad adviser, financial aid officer or bursar can advise you on the possibility of using federal and state aid for foreign study.

The Institute of International Education maintains a reference library with extensive scholarship and grant information at its Information Center at 809 United Nations Plaza in New York City. Information is available upon a personal visit to the Center—not by mail or telephone.

Work Abroad

The practice of working one's way through college is not common overseas, although some study programs include nonpaid work experience. Part-time work-study and trainee positions, which pay a small salary, are occasionally available, but cannot be relied upon to cover the bulk of your expenses overseas.

Summer work programs geared towards students, trainees and volunteers characteristically offer room and board rather than a salary. Archaeological excavations, for example, often fall into this category.

Foreign labor laws are often highly restrictive. Be sure to investigate them thoroughly if you plan to seek work abroad—and don't plan to rely on work in the private sector to pay your way.

The Council on International Educational Exchange has organized a work abroad program with the cooperation of several nations. Academic credit is sometimes available through special arrangement. For information, contact CIEE Work Abroad, 205 East 42nd Street, New York, NY 10017.

TRAVEL AND LIVING

After selecting a study program, it is time to prepare for life in a foreign country. Your study-abroad experience will have greater personal value if you take an active role in learning about the language, history and culture of the country, as well as current social and political conditions.

Attend any orientation sessions offered by your program sponsor. The history and culture of the host country are usually reviewed in some detail. There may also be language exams and assigned readings. And you may have the opportunity to ask questions about issues that confuse you before they present real problems.

Books, periodicals, plays, films and museum exhibits can provide additional information, as will the embassy, consulate or tourist office of the country in which you plan to study.

People encountered abroad are frequently curious about the United States. As a consequence, you can expect to be hit with a barrage of questions about U.S. history, economics, culture, government policies and current events. To be forewarned is to be forearmed!

Laws and Customs

Orientation sessions usually review the more important laws and customs students must comply with. These are not empty warnings. One of the biggest mistakes you can make is to assume that behavior and actions acceptable in the United States are appropriate everywhere, or that other countries will excuse inappropriate or illegal acts simply because you are a foreigner.

In many countries, for example, local cultural values dictate that certain parts of the body be covered, particularly in sacred places. Flouting such customs is perceived as a deliberate affront. In such situations, verbal protestations can escalate into threats or physical assaults. This is particularly true if the U.S. student is thought to be indifferent to the initial objections.

It is important to realize that civil rights issues are simply not involved. U.S. notions regarding freedom of speech and expression have no parallel in many countries. Even where the potential for violence is not an issue, students should realize that inappropriate behavior will tend to alienate them from the local populace.

Close adherence to the laws of the country in which you are living or traveling is even more important. It is unwise to rationalize that you are committing only a minor infraction when exchanging money on the black market or making purchases for foreign friends in hard currency shops that are off-limits for natives. Breaking the law—even a repressive, irrational or antiquated one—is still breaking the law and can lead to severe penalties. At the very least, you can expect to be expelled from the program and deported from the country. U.S. programs are there at the sufferance of their hosts, and sponsors will not risk their programs to protect law-breaking students. Do not expect special intervention from U.S. consulates, either.

Narcotics laws are strictly enforced overseas, particularly when the offenders are foreigners. Harsh sentences, including life imprisonment or death, are not unknown, even in countries where natives may break such laws with impunity.

Warnings aside, there are few pleasures to compare with the experience of forming friendships with people who have spent their entire lives in a different milieu and who can communicate whole new perspectives on the most ordinary of life's experiences. Be sensitive rather than brash, and discover what life is like for others on this planet.

Accommodations

Student housing is difficult to find almost everywhere. Dormitory space is often so limited that many foreign universities have strict quotas for the number of rooms allotted to international students. Generally, U.S. students live in apartments, pensions, student hostels or with families. Be sure to find out whose responsibility it is to make housing arrangements. Check with the program sponsors to see what arrangements they have made, and investigate the available alternatives. And remember to confirm all housing arrangements well ahead of departure.

Passports, Visas and Vaccinations

Valid passports are required for travel abroad. You may apply in person to a passport agent at U.S. Department of State agencies in Boston, Chicago, Honolulu, Houston, Los Angeles, Miami, New Orleans, New York City, Philadelphia, San Francisco, Seattle, Stamford (Connecticut) or Washington, DC. Passports are also issued through selected post offices, or by clerks of any federal court or state court of records. Proof of U.S. citizenship (birth certificate, naturalization certificate, or previous U.S. passport), two recent photographs (2" x 2") and current identification with a personal signature and photograph or physical description (such as a driver's license) are required.

For citizens 18 years or older, a passport valid for ten years costs $35 plus a required $7 execution fee. A five-year passport for citizens under age 18 is $20 plus a required $7 execution fee. You must appear in person if you are applying for the first time, are renewing a passport issued over eight years ago or were younger than 18 when your last passport was issued. Apply early: processing an application takes four to six weeks—longer during the peak travel season.

A visa is written permission to visit a country granted by the government of that country. Visa requirements vary from country to country and are fully described in Visa Requirements of Foreign Governments (Publication M-264) available at any passport agency or by writing to Office of Passport Services, Room 386, 1425 K Street NW, Washington, DC 20524.

Anyone planning to study in a country for an extended period of time may need to get a special student visa. Information relating to all visas may be obtained from the nearest embassy or consulate of the country concerned. Many visa applications require that you submit passport-type photographs to be kept on file or incorporated into the visa itself. It is always wise to obtain extra prints of your passport photographs for such purposes.

AIDS testing or vaccination certificates for inoculation against yellow fever or cholera are required by some countries. Check current regulations with your local public health department.

Medical Insurance and Other Health Concerns

The importance of having adequate insurance when visiting another country cannot be overestimated. Before leaving the United States, check your medical and accident insurance policies to be sure they are valid while traveling overseas. If coverage does not extend to travel abroad, you may want to obtain supplemental medical and accident policies. Holders of the International Student Identity Card receive basic medical/accident insurance coverage for their travel outside the continental United States.

While it is easy to stay healthy abroad, in certain countries this requires taking some elementary precautions. Some countries, particularly those in tropical regions, have bacterial, fungal and parasitical diseases which can be difficult to cure. Do not hesitate to ask about these during orientation sessions, and take the advice seriously.

If you require prescription medicines, even intermittently, be aware that foreign drugs are not necessarily closely related to those standard in the United States. Drugs may be marketed under different names and may not be available in the strengths you desire. It is wise to bring an adequate supply of any medication you need. Label all bottles clearly and carry copies of the prescriptions to avoid problems with Customs. In the case of narcotic medicines, it may not be prudent to carry additional supplies because of possible Customs difficulties. Reasonable amounts of nonprescription drugs, such as aspirin and stomach remedies, can come in handy when staying in some of the more remote regions of the world.

Finally, if you wear prescription eyeglasses or contact lenses, bring an extra pair and your prescription. This is particularly important with contact lenses, because the specific type of lens you wear may not be available abroad.

Transportation

Many U.S.-sponsored programs include group transportation to and from the program site. In others, students make their own arrangements. A good place to begin researching your travel options is the government tourist office of the country you will travel to; it provides a variety of free travel literature.

Deregulation in the airline industry has resulted in a proliferation of discounted airfares. Shop carefully if you are looking for an inexpensive flight; the cheapest flight is not necessarily the one that best suits your needs. Fares that specify a return date should be looked at particularly carefully, as these may not allow the flexibility you need.

Aim to travel lightly, especially if you will be participating in a study-tour. You will have to carry whatever you bring, so restrict yourself to one or two moderate-sized bags and a small carry-on bag in which to keep valuables, passport and camera equipment. Insure your baggage and personal effects for the full period abroad. If you bring a camera, purchase a lead-lined film bag. Contrary to airport claims, some X-ray devices are ruinous to film.

Once abroad, railroads are often an economical and convenient way to travel. In Europe and Great Britain, Eurail and BritRail passes offer unlimited train travel at considerable savings to those who travel extensively. Eurailpasses are not valid in Britain but can be used on ferries between Italy and Greece, France and Ireland, and in Scandinavia. Rail passes are available from many travel agencies and must be purchased in the United States before your departure.

If you are considering renting a car, remember that in Britain, many Commonwealth countries and Japan, cars drive on the left-hand side of the road. Your U.S. driver's license is generally accepted abroad, but it may be necessary to supplement it with an International Driver's License, which provides a multilingual translation of the information on your U.S. license and is available from your local AAA office.

An excellent source of information about student travel is the Council on International Educational Exchange (CIEE). CIEE publishes the Student Travel Catalog (available free of charge), and offers the International Student Identity Card as well as a wide range of student travel services. The International Student ID entitles the bearer to numerous discounts on transportation, accommodations, museum entrance fees and more. Contact CIEE headquarters at 205 East 42nd Street, New York, NY 10017, or Council Travel offices in Amherst (MA), Atlanta, Austin, Berkeley, Boston, Cambridge, Chicago, Dallas, Evanston (IL), La Jolla (CA), Long Beach (CA), Los Angeles, Milwaukee, Minneapolis, New Haven, New Orleans, Portland (OR), Providence, San Diego, San Francisco, Seattle, Sherman Oaks (CA) and Washington, DC.

IIE-ADMINISTERED PROGRAMS

IIE administers U.S. student applications for the following study programs:

- British Universities Summer Schools, Stratford, London and Oxford, England. A joint summer program of the universities of Birmingham, London and Oxford in literature, drama and history.
- Salzburg Summer School, Salzburg, Austria. A six-week summer program in German language and Austrian culture, offered by the Austro-American Society.
- Centro Linguistico Italiano Dante Alighieri, Florence, Rome and Siena, Italy. Year-round courses in Italian language, culture and cooking.
- Scuola Leonardo da Vinci, Florence, Italy. Courses in Italian language, culture, history and literature; crafts; and special courses for teachers of Italian.
- Studio Art Centers International, Florence and Pietrasanta, Italy; and Oxford, England. Six- and 12-week courses in studio arts and culture.

For applications and information, write to the U.S. Student Programs Division, Institute of International Education, 809 United Nations Plaza, New York, NY 10017.

HOW TO READ STUDY-ABROAD LITERATURE

The late Lily von Klemperer trained a generation of study-abroad advisers as one of the most active members of NAFSA: Association of International Educators. Before and after her retirement from IIE, she brought a strong concern for ethics to her work. The following article, first printed in a NAFSA newsletter of the mid-1970 's, has been reprinted frequently ever since.

HOW TO READ STUDY-ABROAD LITERATURE

By Lily von Klemperer

This is a sample advertisement for a summer program abroad:

TWA
Spend Your Summer in Sunny Spain
Live in a Medieval Castle
Learn Spanish at a Famous University
College Credit Available
Outstanding Faculty
International Student Body
Limited Enrollment—All Ages Eligible
Inclusive Charge
Write for Fully Illustrated Brochure
Director of Admissions
PO Box 000, Grand Central Station
New York, NY 10017

This advertisement probably never existed in its entirety. Its components, however, appear in many advertisements, posters and brochures. Advertisements and posters may have to be somewhat flashy and overstated to catch the eye. Brochures, on the other hand, should be factual, realistic and totally honest.

Let us analyze the components of the sample ad, line by line, in order to remind ourselves (1) how to read, interpret and write descriptive literature on study programs abroad, and (2) what questions to ask ourselves and others before enrolling in a program.

TWA. If the advertisement or brochure is "crowned" by TWA, a travel agency or a similar commercial organization, while the name of the sponsoring US college or university appears in small print elsewhere, whose program is it? And who is responsible for the program's academic standards, if any?

Spend Your Summer in Sunny Spain. A pleasant prospect! But look at the prominence of this statement and ask what the real purpose of this program is: a summer in the sun—or a summer spent studying a foreign language and culture? How many hours will be spent in class and how many on the beach? What is the curriculum? Who teaches what, where and when?

Live in a Medieval Castle. How romantic! But where is that castle? Is it near that "famous university" or will you have to commute to classes each day? Are the rooms shared or single? Are study facilities available? Are the inexpensive eating places nearby?

If family living is suggested, is it a family that has experience with US students? Will they converse with you in the language you are studying? Is the housing offered close to the center of town and cultural events? Is there public transportation after 6 pm or do students have to rely on expensive taxis?

Learn Spanish at a Famous University. Why isn't the name of the host institution given? Foreign universities generally suspend regular operations during the summer months, when their facilities may be available to anyone willing to pay the rent. The "famous university" may not actually be involved in the curriculum at all. The ad may refer to courses arranged by the sponsoring organization or to a special program for foreigners, which may or may not be organized by the host institution.

Some ads refer to "accredited" institutions or programs. To check the US accreditation of a college or university, consult Accredited Institutions of Postsecondary Education, published annually by the American Council on Education for the Council on Postsecondary Accreditation. Information on foreign universities is available in The World of Learning (Europa Publications), the International Handbook of Universities (de Gruyter) and the Commonwealth Handbook of Universities Yearbook (Association of Commonwealth Universities).

College Credit Available. The crucial questions here are (1) who makes this college credit available? and (2) does the student's home institution accept credit offered by this program?

If receiving academic credit for your studies abroad is important to you, check the brochure to see if your school is listed as a participating institution or as a school that has accepted program credits in the past. Then consult your academic or study-abroad adviser before you enroll in the program to see whether the credits offered can be applied to your degree program.

Outstanding Faculty. Who are they? Where do they teach? What are their credentials? And, are they accessible to the students outside of class?

International Student Body. Look closely at the roster of students in the back of the brochure. Are they swelling the ranks of "international students" by listing the children of US parents residing abroad? Or will you in fact be mixing with bona fide representatives of other cultures?

Limited Enrollment—All Ages Eligible. Does the statement "limited enrollment" presuppose selectivity when all ages are eligible? How homogeneous is a program open to everybody, unless it includes classes specifically geared to the various academic levels?

It would be more helpful to know the type of student for whom the program is designed—his academic level, educational or professional background, motivation and goals.

Inclusive Charge. There are almost as many variations to this term as there are programs. Is there an estimate of total expenses? Read the small print. Find out exactly what is covered and, more importantly, what is NOT covered. For example, are there periods of time abroad NOT covered by the inclusive fee? Will you have to pay for transportation to and from classes each day?

Ask about refund policies: Is there a nonrefundable application fee? Will tuition and program fees be refunded if circumstances force you to drop out of the program?

Write for Fully Illustrated Brochure. Even organizers of high-quality programs love to publicize them with attractive photographs of breathtaking scenery, lively cafe scenes, marble columns and Gothic spires. Unless the brochure devotes equal space to academic facilities, however, one may well question whether there is any provision at all for serious study.

Director of Admissions. Is there a name of a responsible person or just a title—or not even that? If you search the "fully illustrated brochure" and find no board of advisers, no trustees listed—no names whatsoever—what conclusions would you reach?

PO Box 000, Grand Central Station. Is there a street address or just a postal number? Is there a phone number? How can one get hold of the program director in an emergency? And does a box number or street address in Ann Arbor necessarily imply University of Michigan sponsorship?

All these remarks—negative and positive—are a bid for honesty. Descriptive literature on foreign study should reflect the serious intent of the organizers. It should reflect quality, selectivity and effective academic control. A meaningful and solid program cannot accommodate all tastes, all needs, all levels of maturity. But whatever it is meant to represent should be stated clearly and honestly.

IIE BOOKS PROVIDE THE MOST COMPLETE INFORMATION ON INTERNATIONAL STUDY

For 40 years, IIE books have been the standard reference resources on study abroad for U.S. students and adult learners. The Institute of International Education is the largest U.S. higher educational exchange agency. IIE, a not-for-profit organization, has over 600 U.S. college and university members.

IIE Study Abroad:

Academic Year Abroad 1991/92 $31.95
Over 1,800 study-abroad programs offered by U.S. and foreign higher education during the academic year.

Vacation Study Abroad 1991 $26.95
More than 1,300 programs that combine summer travel and study worldwide.

Teaching Abroad 1988/91 $21.95
An expanded edition of IIE's popular guide that includes information on both employment and study for teachers and faculty worldwide.

From IIE and Peterson's Guides:

Financial Resources for International Study $42.70
Compiled by IIE and published by Peterson's Guides, a comprehensive reference work on financial aid awards for U.S. nationals to study abroad at all academic levels. Grant information on over 630 award opportunities that range from $500 to tens of thousands of dollars in value. Cannot be ordered directly from IIE. Use Peterson's Guides order form inside back cover of this book.

U.K. Central Bureau Publications Now From IIE:

The United Kingdom's best books on study and work abroad are published by the Central Bureau, the agency funded by the U.K. education ministries to provide the most-needed information on international education. IIE is the distributor for:

Working Holidays 1991 $19.95
Over 350 pages of unbiased information on paid and voluntary work in over 100 countries.

Study Holidays $18.95
An authoritative guide to European language learning. From French to Finnish, this comprehensive guide gives detailed information on over 600 organizations offering European language courses in 25 nations.

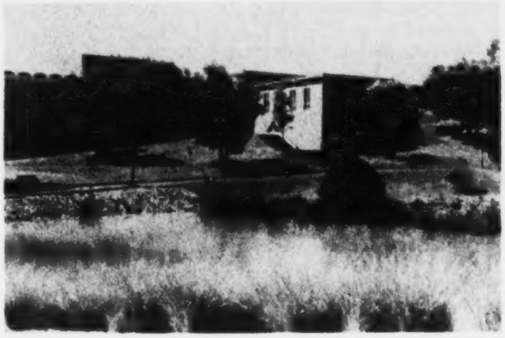
FLINDERS UNIVERSITY South Australia

The Flinders University of South Australia was established in 1966 and is fully government funded. Today there are 7600 students enrolled at the University. Over 600 students are from overseas and 50% of the student population are females.

Flinders is located on a spacious, modern campus of 160 hectares. Flinders is situated in the southern foothills of the Adelaide Hills, and has commanding views of the city and Gulf of St. Vincent. The University is only 11 kilometres from the city centre and is served by regular bus services to the city and nearby suburbs.



Students currently enrolled in a University of another country are welcome to study at Flinders as a visiting student under our Study Abroad Program. The tuition fee for visiting students is AUD$4000 per semester.

Studies are available in a wide range of areas including:

Economics
Australian Studies
Archaeology
Biology
Oceanography
Drama
Development Studies
Politics
Visual Arts
American Studies
Marine Biology
Meteorology
Asian Studies
Women's Studies

"I spent a semester at this Australian university. I'd do the same again."

CHRISTOPHER OSIKA – RPI BUSINESS STUDENT

QUT is one of the largest universities in Australia. It offers academic programs in most professional fields, from undergraduate to doctoral levels (including MBA), which are recognised internationally.

Courses prepare students for real careers in the real world. A close relationship with industry and the professions in the design and teaching of courses extends also to cooperative research projects.

QUT

Broad study areas include Engineering, Business, Education, Health, Science, Computing, Law, Design and The Arts.

The university is located in the sub-tropical city of Brisbane which has over a million people, a relaxed lifestyle and is close to some of the world's best surfing beaches. If you would like to spend a semester here, see your Study Abroad advisor or contact QUT on Fax +617 221 0313.

A university for the real world.

MDCCCLXXXV

Since 1973 Rollins has offered a program that provides a solid foundation in Australian Studies and a well-rounded experience of the country and its people. Students live with Australian hosts and attend classes at the Universities of Sydney and Melbourne. Courses are taught by Australian faculty, and field trips are an integral part of the curriculum. The 1991 one-semester fee of $7950 includes roundtrip airfare from Los Angeles, tuition, field trips, room and board. For information on semester and year-long programs, write the International Programs Office, Box 2759, Rollins College, Winter Park, FL 32789, or call (407) 646-2466.

The University of Sydney

Constituted by an Act of the New South Wales Parliament and founded in 1850, the University of Sydney is the oldest university in Australia and one of the largest with over 100 teaching departments and 27,000 students. Just 3 kilometres from downtown Sydney, the University's historic 70-hectare campus offers an extensive range of teaching facilities and student amenities and boasts the largest university library in Australia holding in excess of 3,700,000 volumes. With an enviable international reputation in scholarship and research, the graduates of the University of Sydney are amongst the leaders of government, industry and education in Australia and abroad and its degrees enjoy worldwide recognition.

IIE BOOKS PROVIDE THE MOST COMPLETE INFORMATION ON INTERNATIONAL STUDY

For 40 years, IIE books have been the standard reference resources on study abroad for U.S. students and adult learners. The Institute of International Education is the largest U.S. higher educational exchange agency. IIE, a not-for-profit organization, has over 600 U.S. college and university members.

IIE Study Abroad:

Academic Year Abroad 1991/92 $31.95
Over 1,800 study-abroad programs offered by U.S. and foreign higher education during the academic year.

Vacation Study Abroad 1991 $26.95
More than 1,300 programs that combine summer travel and study worldwide.

Teaching Abroad 1988/91 $21.95
An expanded edition of IIE's popular guide that includes information on both employment and study for teachers and faculty worldwide.

From IIE and Peterson's Guides:

Financial Resources for International Study $42.70
Compiled by IIE and published by Peterson's Guides, a comprehensive reference work on financial aid awards for U.S. nationals to study abroad at all academic levels. Grant information on over 630 award opportunities that range from $500 to tens of thousands of dollars in value. Cannot be ordered directly from IIE. Use Peterson's Guides order form inside back cover of this book.

U.K. Central Bureau Publications Now From IIE:

The United Kingdom's best books on study and work abroad are published by the Central Bureau, the agency funded by the U.K. education ministries to provide the most-needed information on international education. IIE is the distributor for:

Working Holidays 1991 $19.95
Over 350 pages of unbiased information on paid and voluntary work in over 100 countries.

Study Holidays $18.95
An authoritative guide to European language learning. From French to Finnish, this comprehensive guide gives detailed information on over 600 organizations offering European language courses in 25 nations.

Use this order form to order all IIE books except Financial Resources for International Study, for which a Peterson's Guides order form is provided at the back of the book. Make checks payable to IIE BOOKS. Add $3 each book for U.S. shipping and handling. Overseas add $16 first book, $8 each additional book.

Study in Austria

Students take German language at an appropriate level and four upper division courses chosen from area studies core offerings and electives in

- European Studies
- Soviet and East European Studies
- Southeast European Studies

Electives include Art and Architecture in Vienna, Music in Vienna, History of Austria, and Russian Language.

All classes are taught in English by local faculty who are specialists in their respective fields and experienced in working with American students.

A 3-week January Session in intensive German language study is also available.

Escorted Field Study Trips

Field study trips to the countries under consideration in the selected core studies are an integral part of the academic program in each semester.

Application Due Dates

Fall Semester	April 20
Spring Semester	October 15
January Session	November 1

Places are filled by rolling admissions. Early application is advised.

Program Highlights

For more than 25 years, we have provided the best possible academic programs, overseas facilities and student services at the most reasonable cost. The fee for a semester in Vienna covers:

- full tuition and fees
- accommodation in Viennese households
- meal and local transportation allowance
- travel and lodging for escorted field study trips
- orientation in Vienna
- ongoing advising and student services from our program staff in Glenside and resident program staff in Vienna
- permanent academic records and final transcript for credit transfer
- tuition savings on a full-year fee for students who enroll for both fall and spring semesters

Financial Services

- Through Academic Management Services, fee payments may be budgeted over five months for fall and spring programs, over ten months for full-year programs.
- Information on the transfer of financial aid is available from our office in Glenside.

University of Joensuu, Finland

offers an interdisciplinary program in English on

KARELIA, THE BALTIC AREA AND EASTERN EUROPE

The University of Joensuu was established in 1969. It is situated in Eastern Finland, in Finnish Karelia. The number of students is about 5000. The University is divided into five faculties, the Faculty of Education, the Faculty of Arts, the Faculty of Science, the Faculty of Social Sciences and the Faculty of Forestry. A great deal of the research done in the University concerns Eastern Finland, Karelia, and Eastern Europe.

For international students, both under- and postgraduate, the University offers a study program of 30 credits (study weeks) in Karelian, Baltic and Eastern European Studies. It contains studies in History, Geography, Finno-Baltic languages, Ethnography and Folklore, and Literature and Arts. The study program also includes visits to the University of Tartu, in Estonia, and to the Universities of Petrozavodsk and Leningrad, in the Soviet Union, with which the University of Joensuu has agreements of cooperation.

The students also have at their disposal the services of the University's two research centers specializing in Karelia and the Baltic area, i.e. the Center for Finno-Baltic and Eastern European Studies and the Karelian Research Institute. It is also possible for them to take courses of Russian Language given in English.

DIS, DENMARK'S INTERNATIONAL STUDY PROGRAM
affiliated with the University of Copenhagen

STUDY EUROPE IN COPENHAGEN

TAUGHT IN ENGLISH BY DANISH FACULTY

- Liberal Arts (Social Sciences, Humanities, Arts)
- International Business
- Architecture

Whenever I'm in Copenhagen, I run into American college students enjoying a term in Denmark, studying with DIS. We stand in the street and talk about Danes, about cultural differences, about how much we miss peanut butter, and I wind up envying them the experience. Denmark is a small, homogenous society with a fascinating culture, and a good place for an American to go to find out what it means to be us.

Garrison Keillor Garrison Keillor
American Writer and Humorist

To live the events while you study them is incredibly stimulating

Nicole Ratte, Mount Holyoke College:
The DIS Program has been incredible - a program where I really learned something academically. Copenhagen is great - an active city with so many things going on - I fell in love with Copenhagen! The fact that the teaching is in English is a definite plus.

Mike Whitton, The American University:
An over-all excellent experience. One of the best parts was the family stay. Through my host family I really got to see family and social life in Denmark on a more personal level.
The field trips and study tours are excellent; they really showed you what your studies are all about - you got to see for yourself instead of just reading about it.

Damian Geistkemper, University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign:
The classes are taught in English - and they are of outstanding quality - it's one of the more difficult study abroad programs, but I chose it because as long as I was going to spend the money overseas I was going to learn something, too.

DIS, Denmark's International Study Program, is one of Europe's oldest, largest and most highly esteemed study abroad programs recognized and supported by the Danish government.

Postgraduate degree program in Information Technology in Education at the University of Joensuu, Finland

(Autumn 1991—Spring 1993)

The program provides a theoretical and practical basis for developing and evaluating computer-based learning environments. The goal of the program is to analyze the possibilities computers offer to further the development of higher order cognitive skills in students. This program concentrates on the following areas of study:

☐ Theoretical studies of learning and thinking
☐ Motivation and learning
☐ Interaction between people and information processing tools
☐ Methods and tools for prototype development
☐ Research methods for empirical experiments

The prequisite for admission is a Master's degree or equivalent preparation. Doctoral study is both formal and informal. All students will be required to attend and participate in seminars and other courses organized by the institute during three terms. In addition, according to their own personal study program, students will participate in courses and conferences outside the university. After having selected a suitable dissertation topic in consultation with an adviser, the student will submit orally a written paper on his or her research two or three times during each term.

Applications should be sent no later than April 30, 1991. The language of instruction is English. Mailing address for applications and further information:

University of Joensuu, Finland
offers in English

A PROGRAMME OF RUSSIAN LANGUAGE AND CULTURE

The University of Joensuu was established in 1969. Instruction is provided in a number of academic disciplines and research fields, and degrees are granted in 22 degree programmes. Student enrollment is approx. 5,000 of which 1,100 study at the University branch in the town of Savonlinna.

All the main fields of the Humanities are represented in the Faculty of Arts. The Faculty is comprised of the following departments: Finnish Language, Literature and Cultural Research, Foreign Languages, History, Greek Orthodox Theology and Translation and Interpretation.

During the academic year 1991-1992 the University of Joensuu will offer a programme in Russian Language and Culture for foreign students. This programme is designed for English-speaking students with no previous studies in Russian or any knowledge of basic Russian. All the lectures will be given in either English or Russian. The programme consists of various courses in Russian and Soviet culture, literature, Soviet institutions and, of course, written and spoken Russian. A student can also take courses in Karelian and Baltic history and culture, or in Ethnology. The programme is divided into two sections: Programme A is for students having a knowledge of basic Russian and Programme B is for students with no previous studies. Each programme lasts for one academic year.

As the University is located only a short distance from the Soviet border, the Russian Language and Culture programme offers an excellent opportunity to study Russian in the Soviet Union. The University of Joensuu has cooperative agreements with a number of Soviet universities. For example, the University of Petrozavodsk in beautiful Soviet Karelia organizes Russian language courses at all levels and introduces students to Russian culture in an original setting. On can only apply for these courses in Joensuu.

It is well known that trips to Leningrad and Moscow are easily available in Finland. Finnish travel agencies organize inexpensive 1-2 week package tours. Every spring the Department of Russian organizes an excursion to a Soviet city—next year the place could be Vladivostok!

Je n'ai fait celle-ci plus longue que parceque je n'ai pas eu le loisir de la faire plus courte.

I have made this letter longer than usual only because I have not had the time to make it short.

OF PARIS

l'université américaine de Paris
31, avenue Bosquet 75007 Paris, France

Semester or a Year Abroad at The American University of Paris

Lying virtually in the shadow of the Eiffel Tower in the 7th arrondissement, The American University of Paris combines the abundant resources of a four-year college with Paris' riches as cultural and intellectual capital of the new Europe. The art, architecture, cosmopolitan ambiance, and political significance as headquarters for numerous international organizations makes Paris an incomparable primary text for students at the University.

Of the 1000 students from over 60 different countries, 50% are U.S. citizens and 15% graduates of French lycées. In the past academic year, visiting students comprised 13% of the student population and came from 89 colleges and universities. Housing assistance is guaranteed.

Majors in: Art History, Comparative Literature, Computer Science, European Studies, French Studies, International Affairs, International Business Administration, International Economics, and Fine Arts in conjunction with Parsons School of Design, Paris. Work in the majors can, for students in the Institute for French Studies in Paris program (IFSP) with strong French language proficiency, also be combined with courses at the Institut d'Etudes Sociales, Institut National des Langues et Civilisations Orientales, Université de Paris IV–Sorbonne, and Institut d'Etudes Politiques ('Sciences-Po').

Center for Overseas Undergraduate Programs

When you think of studying in Paris . . .

Think of COUP.

During the past twenty-six years, COUP has assured our students of individual attention and a curriculum which can accomodate each student's academic needs.

If you are looking for a program where you can design a course of studies tailor-made for you, where you can choose from offerings at the University of Paris, at specialized institutes, or from our own courses (supplemented by tutorials when necessary), then COUP is for you.

Applications are now being accepted for the 1991-1992 academic year as well as for the Fall '91 and Spring '92 semesters.

A New Germany

A Unique Opportunity

Berlin
Heidelberg

The American Junior Year At Heidelberg University

Heidelberg College offers you two unique opportunities to further your language proficiency in the heart of a united Germany. The Junior Year Program enables qualified college and university students to spend a full junior year or a semester at one of Germany's outstanding centers of education and culture – the University of Heidelberg. Since 1958, more than 700 students from 200 colleges and universities have been challenged by the intensive study offered there.

Today's study-abroad students are looking for that special opportunity to live a language, as well as learn it. Your success may depend upon how well those educational experiences are designed. Write us at The American Junior Year at Heidelberg for information on how 32 years of international experience can help you realize your foreign-study goals.

Study in Greece

Students take modern Greek language at an appropriate level and three upper division courses chosen from

- Classical Languages
- Classical and Byzantine Studies
- Modern Greek Studies

Special studies can be arranged with advance approval from the student's home college

All courses are taught in English by local faculty who are specialists in their respective fields and experienced in working with American students. Small class size ensures individual instruction

Escorted Field Study Trips

Field study trips to northern Greece and the Peloponnesus are an integral part of the academic program in each semester

Application Due Dates

Fall Semester April 20
Spring Semester October 15

Places are filled by rolling admissions. Early application is advised

Program Highlights

For more than 25 years, we have provided the best possible academic programs, overseas facilities and student services at the most reasonable cost. The fee for a semester in Greece covers

- full tuition and fees
- housing in furnished student apartments
- travel and lodging for escorted field study trips
- ongoing advising and student services from our program staff in Glenside and resident program staff in Athens
- permanent academic records and final transcript for credit transfer
- tuition savings on a full-year fee for students who enroll for both fall and spring semesters

Financial Services

- Through Academic Management Services, fee payments may be budgeted over five months for fall and spring programs, over ten months for full-year programs
- Information on the transfer of financial aid is available from our office in Glenside

Our Irish programs offer a full range of curriculum in liberal arts, social science, the natural sciences and engineering.

Program Highlights

For more than 25 years, we have provided the best possible academic programs, overseas facilities and student services at the most reasonable cost. Our fees cover

- full tuition and fees for arts and social science based enrollments and for full-time science enrollments in some locations
- college, university or program-arranged housing
- overseas orientation and homestay
- ongoing advising and student services from our program staff in Glenside and resident program staff in Dublin
- permanent academic records and final transcript for credit transfer
- eastbound transatlantic group-flight

Financial Services

- Through Academic Management Services, fee payments may be budgeted over five months for fall and spring programs, over ten months for full-year programs.
- Information on the transfer of financial aid is available from our office in Glenside.

Application Due Dates

Almost all places are offered on a rolling admissions basis. Early application is advised.

Study Abroad Programs

Geneva...

In Switzerland, students are offered courses in international politics, United Nations organizations, international business and French-language studies. Geneva serves as a locale for international political and economic discussions; students are afforded opportunities to witness decision-making processes of global impact. Offered fall and spring semesters.

Italy...

Open to KSU students of Architecture and Environmental Design and to Interior Design majors, this program offers courses in architecture as well as lectures on the cultural history of Italy and provides opportunities for travel in Italy and Europe. Offered spring semester only.

Florence...

One of the most important cities in the Western world's culture, Florence is identified with such figures as Dante, Michelangelo, Da Vinci, and Medici, as well as the creators of the first operas. Courses are offered in art history, drawing, design, music, comparative literature, European history, and government. Offered fall semester only.

Elsewhere...

The Center for International & Comparative Programs, in collaboration with Kent State's exchange partner universities, also offers a variety of student exchange and study abroad opportunities in England, France, Israel, Japan, Ulster, and the USSR. A wide variety of subjects and courses are available.

Spend a semester overseas with us!

TEMPLE UNIVERSITY
in ROME

Spend a semester or year studying at Temple University's campus on the banks of the Tiber River in Rome. For over twenty years, students from Temple and other universities have explored the visual arts, art history, architecture, political science, history, and Italian language, literature and anthropology at Temple's home in central Rome. Classes are taught in English by American and European faculty.

To learn more about Temple's programs in Rome, and in Tokyo, London and Paris, contact:
Tom Kesaris, Director of Overseas Study
201 Mitten Hall, Temple University
Philadelphia, PA 19122

Study in Rome

TRINITY COLLEGE
ROME CAMPUS

21st Consecutive Year

FOR STUDENTS who want to broaden their cultural horizons and learn through exposure in a different environment. Rome is a natural center for learning art, literature and history. Located on one of the original seven hills of Rome, the Aventine, the campus overlooks the Tiber on one side and the Circus Maximus on the other. Courses are taught by adjunct faculty members of Trinity College and are conducted in English except for those in Italian language and literature.

Live and Study in Spain

Madrid/Salamanca

Undergraduate division: The language and literature of Spain and Latin America, history of art and music, contemporary Spanish politics, social sciences. One semester, one year, or three years of fully accredited academic study. An ideal way to master the Spanish language and experience aspects of Hispanic culture.

Graduate division: Two degree programs: Master of Arts in literature and Master of Arts in Hispanic civilization. M.A. degree may be completed in one year of study. Course requirements for the Ph.D. may also be partially fulfilled in Spain.

Courses taught by eminent Spanish scholars under the supervision of a New York University professor. Trips to historic sites; attendance at theatrical performances, concerts, and films; tours of museums. All courses conducted in Spanish.

New York University Program in Madrid is offered in the fall and spring at the International Institute, in one of the most elegant neighborhoods in central Madrid. The summer program is at the distinguished University of Salamanca. For more information, call (212) 998-8760.

International Program in Toledo, Spain
Semester, Year or Summer Term

Sponsored by
The Global Campus,
Continuing Education & Extension
and
Jose Ortega Y Gasset Foundation

University of Minnesota
An equal opportunity educator
and employer

Enrich your liberal arts education as you improve your Spanish language skills in the beautiful city of Toledo, where Spanish culture and history come alive in a maze of cobblestone streets.

•INTERNATIONAL ATMOSPHERE
Students of Spanish and native speakers of Spanish participate in the Toledo program, forming a unique international community of students from North and South America, Japan, and other countries. The program is based in a renovated 16th century convent, and includes dining, dormitory, and classroom facilities.

•CULTURAL ACTIVITIES & TRIPS
Toledo is one of the grandest cities in Spain, with countless historic sites to discover and explore. Cultural activities, day excursions, and an optional four-day trip are arranged to enrich the educational experience of participants. The attractions of Madrid are also just an hour away.

LANGUAGE & LIBERAL ARTS
A variety of courses in liberal arts and Spanish language allow students to choose coursework that meets their individual needs. Courses are taught in Spanish by experienced international faculty. Language courses require one year of college level Spanish, other courses require two years college level Spanish or the equivalent.

•COMPREHENSIVE PROGRAM FEE
The program fee includes tuition, housing in the program residence or with a Spanish family, all meals, health insurance, several day trips plus other travel opportunities. Personal expenses and air fare are additional.
•$2,480 Summer Session 1991
•$5,969 Semester 1991/92.

Academic year students receive a 20% discount off Spring Semester fees.

Program Highlights

For more than 25 years, we have provided the best possible academic programs, overseas facilities and student services at the most reasonable cost. Our fees cover:

- full tuition and fees for arts and social science based enrollments and for full-time science enrollments in some locations
- college, university or program-arranged housing
- overseas orientation (with a homestay before classes begin)
- ongoing advising and student services from our program staff in Glenside and resident program staff in London
- permanent academic records and final transcript for credit transfer
- eastbound group-flight for full-year, fall and spring programs

Financial Services

- Through Academic Management Services, fee payments may be budgeted over five months for fall and spring programs, over ten months for full-year programs.
- Information on the transfer of financial aid is available from our office in Glenside.

NEW ENGLAND COLLEGE

ARUNDEL
WEST SUSSEX, ENGLAND

AN AMERICAN COLLEGE: AN INTERNATIONAL CAMPUS

Since 1971 our British campus has welcomed hundreds of study-abroad students for a summer, semester or year of study. We are a small, fully accredited college, based in Henniker, New Hampshire, offering degrees on our British campus in Business, Economics, English, International Administration and Political Science.

Our British campus is located 50 miles south of London, just one mile from the medieval town of Arundel, famed for its castle and cathedral. Day trips will take you to the lights of London or the mystery of Stonehenge, and Europe is yours for the weekend, anytime.

You'll live and study in a renovated 18th century manor house with acres of surrounding grounds and gardens. Best of all, you'll become a part of a truly international community — about half of our students in England are from Europe, Africa, and the Middle and Far East.

University
Of Dundee

We are a friendly University with about 5000 students. Most are from Scotland, with something over a third from the rest of the United Kingdom or the countries of the European Community. About a tenth of our students come from 70 countries outside the UK.

We have several subjects with a Scottish flavour which appeal to those whose roots are here in Scotland - but as you can see from our entries in this book, we have a wide range of programs.

Dundee is the urban center for about 200,000 people, providing for their business, health, education, cultural and leisure needs. There is plenty going on. The City's theatre is on campus. There is music: jazz, popular, classical and folk. There are excellent sports facilities on campus.

Situated on the east coast of Scotland, Dundee has excellent transportation links with the rest of Scotland and England - and indeed with Ireland and continental Europe. But you may not want to travel too far from Dundee. We are only a dozen miles from the famous golf course at St. Andrews - and there is a golf course in Dundee. We are in easy reach of the ski-slopes and the other attractions of the Highlands. We have our own historical attractions too - no less than five castles in the City!

Single students who apply in good time are guaranteed University residential accommodation and at reasonable prices. University education for a year or for a longer degree course is affordable at Dundee.

Here are some figures. (Recently the £ sterling has been at about US$1.6 to 1.9: but check with your bank).

JYA Tuition (1990-91):	Year £4200	Semester £2500	Term £1700
Annual Tuition (1990-91):	Degrees and Diplomas:	Arts and Social Sciences £4630	Science and Engineering £6120
Residence Fees (1990-91):	Dorm with full meals, 30 weeks £1331-1447		Self-catering room £21-26 per week

I have looked after JYA at Dundee since 1979 and am now responsible for all aspects of Overseas Student Affairs. Please write to me for details (and mention this ad in Academic Year Abroad).

Public Policy and Government
(Aide to a Member of Parliament)
Social Action and Social Services
Special Interest Areas
(fashion, hotel, music, real estate)

Financial Services
- Through Academic Management Services, fee payments may be budgeted over five months for fall and spring programs, over ten months for full-year programs
- Information on the transfer of financial aid is available from our office in Glenside

Program Highlights
For more than 25 years, we have provided the best possible academic programs, overseas facilities and student services at the most reasonable cost. The fee for a fall or spring internship program covers
- full tuition and fees
- eastbound transatlantic group flight
- program-arranged housing with cooking facilities
- orientation in London
- homestay with a British family
- ongoing advising and student services from our program staff in Glenside and resident program staff in London
- permanent academic records and final transcript for credit transfer
- tuition savings on a full-year fee for students who combine a fall or spring internship with a London Semester or Humanities Program at City of London Polytechnic

Eligibility and Application
Candidates must have a 3.0 gpa and junior-year standing by the time the program begins. All places are filled by rolling admissions. Early application is advised. Closings are

Study
HUMANITIES
in London . . .

Academic Program

This program has been designed for American students to use the unique resources of London in comparative studies of British and European social, political and cultural developments from 1800 to the present time. Four four-credit courses are taken from a range of choices in

- Art History
- Drama and Theatre
- History and Politics
- Literature

Escorted Field Study Trips

Field study trips within Britain and a six day visit to a major European city are an integral part of the interdisciplinary studies in each semester. Paris is usually the venue in the fall, Berlin in the spring.

Financial Services

- Through Academic Management Services, fee payments may be budgeted over five months for fall and spring programs, over ten months for full-year programs
- Information on the transfer of financial aid is available from our office in Glenside

Program Highlights

For more than 25 years, we have provided the best possible academic programs, overseas facilities and student services at the most reasonable cost. The fee for the London Humanities program covers

- full tuition and fees
- eastbound transatlantic group flight
- program-arranged housing with cooking facilities
- travel, lodging and cultural events for escorted field study trips
- orientation in London
- homestay with a British family
- ongoing advising and student services from our program staff in Glenside and resident program staff in London
- permanent academic records and final transcript for credit transfer
- tuition savings on a full year fee for students who combine a Humanities semester with a London Semester Program or a London Internship

London 1991/92

Take your place in the world's best international law classroom — London.

The London Law Programme of the University of Detroit School of Law offers you an exceptional opportunity to study this growing field of law which can prepare you for the European Single Market in 1992.

A unique seminar on the international monetary system and international banking and economics introduces the programme. You will then choose from among courses in international, comparative, British and American law.

You will be taught by an outstanding faculty of British and American university professors and lawyers based in London.

You will be able to participate in Moot Court, dine at Middle Temple, one of four Inns of Court, and be affiliated with the University of London Student's Union.

Application for admission to the programme will be accepted from second and third year students for the fall or spring academic semester. Classes will be held on the campus of Regent's College in central London. Room and board arrangements are available. Tuition costs are low and the programme is approved by the American Bar Association.

SACI/UK

StudioArts in England

Oxford London
Canterbury

Students who wish to take a full 16 credit hour term which meets U.S. academic requirements both as to calendar and content find the SACI / U.K. program the right answer to the question of where to study in the United Kingdom. Oxford together with London and Canterbury were chosen because they offer a wide range of courses within a valid structure for today's fine art students. The program has a wide range of liberal arts, language, science and cultural subjects enabling a student to work out a balanced plan of study. Courses are taught at the Ruskin School of Drawing and Fine Arts, Oxford, the Kent Institute at Canterbury and Oxford Polytechnic by professional studio artists and teachers. Also offered: Museum Internships at the Museum of Modern Art, Oxford and a unique program of interesting lectures.

STUDY FOR ONE YEAR OR FOR ONE OR TWO TERMS IN

OXFORD

Several colleges of Oxford University have invited The Washington International Studies Council to recommend qualified students to study for one year or for one or two terms. Lower Junior status is required, and graduate study is available. Students are directly enrolled in their colleges and receive transcripts from their Oxford college; this is NOT a program conducted by a U.S. College in Oxford. 3.2 minimum index in major required.

An alternative program which is sponsored by the State University of New York (Brockport) is available for students with minimum indexes of 2.7. Students will have social and athletic rights in an Oxford college, and the fees are substantially less.

INTERN IN WASHINGTON, LONDON

WISC offers summer internships with Congress, with the White House, with the media and with think tanks. Government and Journalism courses are taught by senior-level government officials, who are also scholars, and by experienced journalists. Similar opportunities in public policy internships are offered (with academic credit) in London (Fall, Spring and Summer).

WROXTON

. . . For a Royal Learning Experience

"The best." That's how American college students describe their cultural learning experience at Wroxton College in England. Wroxton is the European campus of Fairleigh Dickinson University, New Jersey's largest private university.

- ☐ Study with a first-class British faculty in traditional lecture and tutorial style.
- ☐ Live and study in a remarkable, fully restored Jacobean mansion, nestled on a 56-acre estate.
- ☐ Reside in warm and beautiful quarters, and dine on meals prepared by a professional chef.
- ☐ Earn college credits that are accepted in full by U.S. colleges and universities.

Wroxton. Through the centuries, its doors have been open to royalty like Frederick, Prince of Wales . . . King George IV . . . and King William IV. Let it welcome you. For more information call Laura McKeown at:

IIE BOOKS PROVIDE THE MOST COMPLETE INFORMATION ON INTERNATIONAL STUDY

For 40 years, IIE books have been the standard reference resources on study abroad for U.S. students and adult learners. The Institute of International Education is the largest U.S. higher educational exchange agency. IIE, a not-for-profit organization, has over 600 U.S. college and university members.

IIE Study Abroad:

Academic Year Abroad 1991/92 $31.95
Over 1,800 study-abroad programs offered by U.S. and foreign higher education during the academic year.

Vacation Study Abroad 1991 $26.95
More than 1,300 programs that combine summer travel and study worldwide.

Teaching Abroad 1988/91 $21.95
An expanded edition of IIE's popular guide that includes information on both employment and study for teachers and faculty worldwide.

From IIE and Peterson's Guides:

Financial Resources for International Study $42.70
Compiled by IIE and published by Peterson's Guides, a comprehensive reference work on financial aid awards for U.S. nationals to study abroad at all academic levels. Grant information on over 630 award opportunities that range from $500 to tens of thousands of dollars in value. Cannot be ordered directly from IIE. Use Peterson's Guides order form inside back cover of this book.

U.K. Central Bureau Publications Now From IIE:

The United Kingdom's best books on study and work abroad are published by the Central Bureau, the agency funded by the U.K. education ministries to provide the most-needed information on international education. IIE is the distributor for:

Working Holidays 1991 $19.95
Over 350 pages of unbiased information on paid and voluntary work in over 100 countries.

Study Holidays $18.95
An authoritative guide to European language learning. From French to Finnish, this comprehensive guide gives detailed information on over 600 organizations offering European language courses in 25 nations.

Use this order form to order all IIE books except Financial Resources for International Study, for which a Peterson's Guides order form is provided at the back of the book. Make checks payable to IIE BOOKS. Add $3 each book for U.S. shipping and handling. Overseas add $16 first book, $8 each additional book.

LATIN AMERICA

(SAUS)

Study of the relationships between development and the consequences of urbanization, especially inequality, in Latin America. Analyses of competing theories of development are integrated with field study in the host city, in outlying regions, and, for comparative perspectives, in Guatemala.

Format: Lectures, seminar, field study in Spanish. Homestays with local families.

Locations: The program base is Bogotá, Colombia with Quito, Ecuador as the alternate. Includes field study in Guatemala. Changes in program base and field study locations are made as opportunities arise or as conditions require.

SPRING

LITERATURE, IDEOLOGY, & SOCIETY IN LATIN AMERICA

(LISLA)

LISLA emphasizes mastery and assessment of competing theories for interpreting both literature and social realities in Latin America. Theory-building is integrated with field study at the main program location, in outlying regions of the host country and, for comparative perspectives, study-travel in Puerto Rico.

Format: Lectures, seminar, field study in Spanish. Homestays with local families.

Locations: The program base is Bogotá, Colombia with Quito, Ecuador as the alternate. Includes field study in San Juan, Puerto Rico. Changes in program base and field study locations are made as opportunities arise or as conditions require.

SPRING &/OR FALL

COMMUNITY INTERNSHIPS IN LATIN AMERICA

(CILA)

The focus of CILA is community participation for social change in Latin America. Through internship work, field study, and seminars, CILA studies the philosophical and ideological perspectives of a variety of community agencies or groups which work with or for low-income and other disenfranchised populations in Latin America. The internship experience is organized to expose students to various approaches to participation for social change so that they can apply the results of their learning for making choices about local and global responsibilites in their own society.

Format: Lectures, seminar, field study in Spanish. Homestays with local families.

Locations: The program base is Bogotá, Colombia with Quito, Ecuador as the alternate. Changes in program base and field study locations are made as opportunities arise or as conditions require.

UNIVERSITY OF FLORIDA

Academic Year in Merida

Site: Mexico: Merida Host inst: Univ Autonoma de Yucatan

Rollins College

Spring Term in Merida

The Rollins Spring Term in Merida, Mexico provides an unforgettable introduction to anthropological studies, the Spanish language and a third-world culture. Students begin or continue their study of Spanish and take three courses in English: a seminar on People and Cultures of Latin America plus two electives from such subjects as Mayan Civilization, Mexican History, Mexican Education, and Environment and Conservation in the Yucatan.

Located in the Yucatan peninsula, Merida is a superb study-abroad destination with its hospitable people, proximity to archaeological and historical sites, and sunny, mild climate. Numerous field trips enhance the program, which is offered in conjunction with the Autonomous University of Yucatan. For more information, write to the International Programs Office, Box 2759, Rollins College, Winter Park, FL 32789, or call (407) 646-2466.

APPENDIX: STATISTICS ON STUDY ABROAD

Study-abroad statistics are a recent addition to IIE's Open Doors,which for 40 years has reported the annual enrollment of foreign students at U.S. colleges and universities. In 1985/86, IIE began a biennial survey of U.S. students earning degree credit for international study. Data on the second biennial survey was reported in Open Doors 1988/89—and reported U.S. study-abroad statistics for the 1987/88 academic year. As relatively few campus study-abroad staff receive Open Doors, given its major focus on foreign students, the relevant chapter is reprinted here. Most active campus study-abroad offices receive Academic Year Abroad.

IIE plans to continue biennial surveys of U.S. study-abroad enrollment and to make the data available in this publication as well as in Open Doors. The Institute's international student statistical surveys are made possible by grant support from the U.S. Information Agency. The research is conducted by the IIE Research Division under the direction of Dr. Marianthi Zikopoulos, and with the guidance of the International Education Data Collection Committee, composed of representatives of the American Association of Collegiate Registrars and Admissions Officers (AACRAO), the Institute of International Education (IIE), and NAFSA: Association of International Educators.

U.S. STUDY ABROAD

The predominant direction of student mobility in the world today is from the countries of the East to the "host" or "receiving" countries of the West, as the previous chapters, especially Chapter 1, have shown. There are also important outflows from these Western countries to other leading host regions and to the rest of the world. Until 1986/87 when IIE published the results of its first study abroad survey, the only source of data on student mobility from the United States to other countries was the Unesco Statistical Yearbook, of which extensive use was made in Chapter 1. (It will be noticed that the figures in these tables differ from those in the Unesco data. This is because the Unesco sources report only students enrolled for degrees and thus do not count students in summer or semester programs.)

This year, for the second time since 1985/86, the Institute of International Education conducted an independent survey of the scale and composition of U.S. student flows. This survey was conducted in response to a considerable and growing U.S. higher education interest in patterns of study abroad and the significance they have in educational terms, primarily in the education of undergraduates but also for that of graduate students.

While there are a large range of "overseas opportunities" in which U.S. students participate (study/travel tours, internships, practical training, etc.), the study abroad survey conducted by IIE focuses specifically on study abroad for academic credit. It is intended to serve those who plan the efficient use of university and college resources, those who design undergraduate curricula and overseas programs, and those who need to understand how many and which kinds of students are presently, and in the likely future, obtaining a significant portion of their education at an institution in any foreign country. The study abroad population in the survey has been narrowly defined as only those students who received academic credit from a U.S. institution after they returned from their study abroad experience. It is not a survey of study abroad programs to determine the numbers of students enrolled in them and to obtain other information about them. IIE's Academic Year Abroad and Vacation Study Abroad provide detailed information on study programs worldwide for U.S. students. The numbers of students receiving academic credit are inevitably lower than the totals of those participating in study abroad programs of U.S. institutions and/or enrolled directly in foreign institutions of higher education.

Before 1986/87 no effective data collection strategy had been developed to capture the full picture of all U.S. students abroad; the current effort, although less than complete, offers the most comprehensive analysis of a major sector of the study abroad population and the first comparative data for determining patterns in the evolution of study abroad.

THE 1987/88 SURVEY

Before carrying out the 1987/88 survey of U.S. Study Abroad, IIE staff consulted with AACRAO and NAFSA through the International Education Data Collection Committee (IEDC, formerly ICDC), and with administrators in the field of international education with special expertise in the field of study abroad. As a result, a question concerning academic level was added to the 1987/88 survey form (a copy of the questionnaire is appended).

Survey forms were sent to all accredited institutions of higher eduation; they were addressed either to study abroad contacts established with the 1985/86 Study Abroad Survey, or to contacts used for the Annual Census, with the request that they be passed on, if necessary, to a more appropriate campus official. With the same request, forms were also sent to a limited listing of study abroad coordinators maintained by IIE for its series of publications on study abroad programs.

Surveys were mailed to 2,904 institutions and responses were received from 1,703 (Table 1). Although the overall number of institutions responding to the survey was smaller than in 1985/86, the number of institutions reporting Study Abroad students was much greater this year: 804 compared to 709. Thus, the survey was much more effective in eliciting responses from the targeted population in 1987/88.

The responding institutions reported that a total of 62,341 students received academic credit for study in another country, 13,858 more than the 48,483 reported in 1985/86. This represents a large increase of 28.6%. It should be noted, however, that, while study abroad enrollments may have increased since 1985/86, the increase reflected in our data is due to the higher response rate of institutions with study abroad students in 1987-88. Approximately 100 institutions which responded last year for the first time account for the much higher numbers in 1987/88.

Not all institutions that reported having given credit for study abroad in 1987/88 provided detailed information about the characteristics of the students, as shown in Table 2. The proportion of schools that gave breakdowns for individual variables ranged from 59% for field of study to 80% for duration of study.

Among the 62,341 students who received credit for studying abroad in 1987/88, 84.9% were enrolled in programs sponsored by U.S. institutions of higher education, 11.6% were directly enrolled in foreign schools, and 3.5% were in "other" types of programs (Table 3). When compared to the figures for 1985/86, we can see slightly lower proportions of students enrolled in U.S. institution-sponsored programs (a decrease of 2.9% from 1985/86) and a rise in the proportion of students (4.9% or 3,977 students) enrolled directly in foreign institutions.

GEOGRAPHIC DESTINATION

The vast majority of study abroad students chose to study in Western Europe in 1987/88. Well over two-thirds (71.6%) of them studied there. Europe as a whole accounted for over three-quarters (75.4%) of the total U.S. study abroad population. Lagging far behind Europe but experiencing an increase of 1,505 students from 1985/86, was Latin America, which accounted for 9.2% of the total study abroad student population in 1987/88. Asia, which attracted 5.4% in 1985/86, attracted 6.1% of the study abroad students in 87/88. The Middle East received 4.7%, compared to 4.0% the last time the survey was conducted, and North America attracted 1.4% compared to 0.9%. The percentage of U.S. students studying in Europe was the only portion to decline between surveys, going from 79.6% in 85/86 to 75.4% in 1987/88.

LEADING HOST COUNTRIES

Because of the concentration of foreign students in one region (Europe) it is most useful to examine the country destinations of American students in terms of the worldwide distribution of the study abroad population. The top 10 countries received close to eight out of ten Americans studying abroad (77.3%). The United Kingdom led the way with 28.5% of all study abroad students, followed by France with 12.0%. The next eight countries were Spain (7.9%), Italy (7.7%), Mexico (5.3%), Germany, F.R. (5.0%), Israel (3.5%), Austria (3.1%), Japan (2.2%), and China (2.1%). All of the top four countries and six of the top ten are in Western Europe, two are in Asia, while the Middle East and Latin America have one each.

It is interesting to note that, in some regions, a single country accounts for a substantial portion of the regional total. Israel, for example, had 1,808 (74.5%) of the 2,426 students in the Middle East. Similarly, Mexico received 5.3% of all study abroad students worldwide while all of Latin America accounted for only 9.2%. Mexico is also ranked above The Federal Republic of Germany this year in the proportion of U.S. study abroad students it hosted.

Outside of the major receiving regions, the student patterns are as follows: In Africa, Kenya was the largest receiver with 287 students (0.5% of the overall study abroad total). The leading country in Eastern Europe was the Soviet Union with 693 students (1.3% of all study abroad students). In North America, Canada was the only host country, with 460 students (0.8%), and finally in Oceania, Australia was the regional leader with 479 (0.9%). Because many students studied in more than one country in a region, the country percentages add up to more than 100%. Percentage calculations are further complicated by the fact that close to 1% of the European total is reported only as Europe, with no country specified.

FIELD OF STUDY

The major fields of study of the students abroad were Liberal Arts, chosen by 20.9% of all study abroad students (up from 18.2% in 1985/86) followed closely by foreign languages, which accounted for 14.8% (down from 16.7% in the previous survey year) (Table 6). Three other fields of study accounted for over 10% of all study abroad students, social sciences (14.0%), business and management (11.1%), and the humanities (11.0%). Therefore, the field of study choices of American students abroad are significantly different from those of foreign students in the United States. Only 5.1% of Americans abroad chose engineering, physical and life sciences, and math and computer sciences. The corresponding figure for foreign students in the United States is 37.9%. The number of American students studying the humanities and social sciences abroad is 25% while the equivalent for foreign students coming to the United States is 11.5%. Both the humanities and the social sciences received larger proportions of U.S. study abroad students in this survey year, the humanities receiving 11.0% compared to 7.8% in the 85/86 survey year.

ACADEMIC LEVEL

This year, for the first time, the institutions surveyed concerning study abroad were asked to give information on the academic level of the students receiving credit for their time abroad. The institutions responding provided academic level information on 42,041 or 67.4% of the study abroad population (Table 2), and indicated what portions of those students were at the Associate, Bachelor (broken down by Freshman, Sophomore, Junior and Senior), or Graduate level. The proportions of study abroad students studying at the various levels are presented in Table 7.

Perhaps not surprisingly, 94.3% of the study abroad population studied at the undergraduate (Bachelor and Associate) level. This proportion consisted of 88.4% studying for a Bachelors Degree and 5.9% for an Associate. Within the Bachelor undergraduate group, the majority (16,284 or 38%) were Juniors, followed by Seniors who made up 15.5% (6,539 students), Sophomores consisting of 12.2%, or 5,136 students,and finally Freshman at 4.3% with 1,826 students. For a large proportion (17.6%) of the Bachelor degree candidates specific level was unspecified.

The percentage of students studying abroad for credit at the graduate level was considerably smaller than of those studying at the undergraduate. Only 5.7% or 2,377 students were graduate students. The proportion of foreign students coming to the United States to study at the graduate level is much greater (45.2%), and is the greater proportion within the whole of the foreign student population.

DURATION OF STUDY

Over a third of all study abroad students receiving academic credit spent one semester abroad (35.0%). Close to a third went abroad only for the summer (32.4%) and 17.5% spent the entire academic year in the receiving country. Less than ten percent (7.3%) stayed for a single academic quarter and a scant 0.4% spent a full calendar year. Compared to figures for 1985/86, a smaller proportion of students spent a semester stay abroad while a greater share received credit for summer study abroad (Table 8).

GENDER

The gender distribution of U.S. students abroad was almost exactly the opposite of the profile of foreign students studying in the United States, as indicated in Table 9. Just over a third of the study abroad students were male (35.5%), while a corresponding two-thirds were female (64.5%). The gender breakdown for foreign students in the United States is 66.5% male and 33.5% female. The proportion of American male students studying abroad decreased from 36.2% in 1985/86 to 35.5% this survey year.

INSTRUCTIONS

PLEASE READ CAREFULLY BEFORE COMPLETING THE SURVEY FORM

In this form we are asking you to provide information on all those students who are U.S. citizens or permanent residents who have received academic credit from your institution for study abroad during the 1989/90 academic year, including intersession and summer of 1990.

- You should include only those students who received credit from your institution:
  - a) those who participated in programs sponsored by your institution;
  - b) those who were independently enrolled in foreign colleges and universities but were given credit from your institution for study abroad.
- You should not include students who participated in study abroad programs sponsored by other U.S. institutions, and who received study abroad credit from those institutions.
- Include only students who are United States Citizens or permanent residents.
- If you can provide only partial information, please do so: Please provide as much information as you possibly can. But, if you can provide only partial information, especially the total number of students who received credit for studying abroad from your institution, that will be a very valuable contribution. We would also appreciate it if you would make arrangements to have more complete information available in the future.
- DEADLINE FOR THE RETURN OF THIS FORM IS NOVEMBER 16, 1990.

Direct any inquiries and return completed forms to:

INDEX II: CONSORTIA

Many programs are sponsored by consortia of colleges and universities. This index lists the member institutions of all consortia that sponsor programs in this book. For the book's purposes, a consortium is a group of more than three colleges and universities that jointly offer a study-abroad program.

Students enrolled at a member institution of the consortia listed below should typically apply for admission through their home campus. Others should apply to the administering school or consortium office.

INDEX III: FIELDS OF STUDY

Programs are indexed by field of study, and by country within field. Most fields of study are as given in the Classification of Instructional Programs of the National Center for Education Statistics. However, IIE has adapted the classification to accommodate the especially rich study-abroad opportunities in languages, civilization, culture, and other subjects specific to international study, adding a number of additional fields to the basic set.

INDEX IV: SPECIAL OPTIONS

Most programs in this book are intended for undergraduate students beyond the first year. However, a substantial number of programs offer graduate credit, or will accept freshmen or precollege students, or provide special opportunities for teachers, adults and professionals. This index can help to identify study opportunities for the many study-abroad candidates who are not upper-level undergraduates.

Users of this book can also use this index to find programs that offer study options other than the typical academic lecture, seminar or tutorial. Indexed below are such options as art studios, directed field study, independent study, internships, practical training, student teaching, study tours and voluntary service.

INDEX V: COST RANGES

Use this index for approximate guidance only. Programs are indexed on the lowest cost option they offer as a package fee, which is virtually always for the shortest period of study offered.

Each range indicates specifically whether international travel is included in the cost or not. However, readers must consult individual program entries to determine what else is included in the program fee. Tuition, housing, food, fees, insurance, books and materials, international and local transportation are the basic categories of expenses incurred in studying abroad. Program fees may include all or only some of these costs.

Remember that IIE conducts the research for this book approximately one year before actual program dates. Program sponsors have the option of providing current actual charges or projected fees for the year covered by this book. Entries indicate which year's charges are provided.

Programs sponsored by foreign organizations often provide their costs in foreign currency. Because of exchange fluctuations, it is not useful to provide dollar equivalents for prices stated in foreign currencies. Use exchange rates current at the time of application to calculate approximate costs.

All applicants are well-advised to contact the program sponsor directly for the most up-to-date information on program charges before making a decision. Although program sponsors typically seek to stabilize prices, many factors can influence the cost of an international program. Contact the program sponsor for final information.

ACADEMIC YEAR ABROAD 1991/92

IIE's Comprehensive Guide to Academic Year Study-Abroad Programs

Use this book to plan study abroad that is productive for you. Learning while living in another country can provide the most life-enhancing experience of your educational career—if you make the right choice.

ACADEMIC YEAR ABROAD describes over 1,800 programs worldwide offered by accredited U.S. colleges and universities, foreign universities, language schools, and other U.S. and foreign organizations.

Entries include essential data on:

- Contact address, phone, fax
- Costs
- Academic credit
- Academic level and eligibility
- Fields of study
- Availability of scholarships and work-study
- Dates and duration

Program descriptions are indexed as to fields of study, sponsorship, special learning opportunities, and cost.

The Institute of International Education (IIE), the largest U.S. higher educational exchange agency, has published annual guides to study abroad for 40 years. IIE is a nonprofit organization with over 600 U.S. college and university members.

If you wish to purchase IIE's guides to study abroad, fill out the enclosed order form for the titles below. Check with IIE for the price of subsequent editions.
